BEAM SYSTEM SURE TO WIN SAYS MARCONI

Development of Radio Telephone and Photograph Depends Largely Upon Perfecting Beam Method

CABLE CAN OFFER LITTLE ADVANTAGE

Messages by Beam Are Held by Inventor to Be Practically Secret—Great Transmission Speed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The beam system of radio transmission is the basis for all future wireless improvements, in the opinion of Guglielmo Marconi, here as one of Italy's representatives at the international radio conference. Upon the perfection, he believes, will depend to a large extent the development of such widely different wireless applications as photographic transmission and radio television.

Asked whether wireless would ever completely replace the cable, Marconi said the latter had only the advantage of secrecy, but that with the beam system, secrecy is practically absolute in radio, since words are transmitted at as high a rate as 500 per minute, requiring complicated and expensive receiving sets. In addition, such messages are subject to reception only in the direct path of the beam.

VETCRAFT POPPIES

Committee Urges Public to Buy Flowers Made by Disabled Veterans

An appeal to the public to use the Vetscraft poppies for Thanksgiving Day decorations, on November 27, is urged by the poppy campaign committee. These poppies are made by crippled soldiers of the Great War.

Through the courtesy of Messrs. Davis and Shannon various kinds of wreaths and poppies are now on display in their window, in the Gordon Building, 739 Yates Street. Headquarters of the committee are established in the Gordon Building, telephone 16, where orders will be received.

MAFIA LEADER PUT ON STAND

PRINCIPAL FIGURE IN SICILIAN TRIAL CRITICIZES POLICE

Prisoner Is Alleged to Be Chief Specimen of Criminal Villain—Threats by Mafia

TERMINI IMERSE, Sicily, Oct. 19.—Salvatore Ferrarulo, chief of an infamous gang attached to the dreaded Mafia, who is charged with murder, extortion, and generally with being associated with other criminals, was the principal witness today in the trial of 153 alleged members of the Mafia. Threatening letters he has received since sent out were passed to the jury for inspection. Meanwhile Ferrarulo calmly stroked his black mustache, or stood with folded arms gazing contemptuously about him.

The prisoner was sharply rebuked by the presiding judge when he began to criticize the police and the examining magistrate before whom he had first come. He denied that he was unlawfully in possession of various goods, claiming that he had inherited them from an uncle who was for forty years a fugitive from justice but who died in prison.

GEN. ALFREDO QUIROZ
One of the leaders of the abortive Mexican revolt. The photograph reproduced here was taken just a few weeks before he fell, his body riddled by the bullets of a firing squad. He is now waving goodbye to a group of newspaper correspondents. General Quiroz refused to be blindfolded and made a speech and undisturbed.

SCHOOL INCOME TAX ENDORSED

Union of B.C. Municipalities Seeks Relief From Burden of Educational Outlay

CURRICULUM TO BE MORE PRACTICAL

(By Staff Representative)

NANAIMO, Oct. 19.—Application again will be made this year to the Provincial Legislature for a one per cent tax on income on all those who at the present do not pay income tax, to meet school costs by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. The resolution passed at this morning's session was not unanimous, however.

Mr. D. W. Grimmet, of South Vancouver, said that of every dollar collected in taxes by the municipality 51 cents went to the cost of education, and he did not approve of the present curriculum which he thought was not practical enough and did not train the young people of this province along the lines of the present curriculum. The union advocated a practical curriculum in secondary schools, giving more attention to technical subjects and study that would induce young people to work in the development of the province's mineral, agricultural, fishing and lumber resources.

STORMS DAMAGE BANANA CROPS

Jamaica Reports Damage to Shipping and Property From Gales—Telephones Crippled

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 19.—Reports were received here today of damage to shipping and property in various parts of the island following severe electrical storms and torrential rains on Monday night and Tuesday as a result of cyclonic depression over the Western Caribbean during the last forty-eight hours.

Squalls along the western shore damaged small craft and wrecked a coastwise vessel at Black River. Banana crops in St. Mary and St. Ann parishes suffered extensively when swept by heavy gales reaching almost hurricane proportions. A severe thunder storm accompanied by heavy rains visited Kingston, partly crippling telephone service. The river Cahoe rose to the hydro-electric plant of the Jamaica Public Service at Dogwalk, and the plant had to be shut down temporarily.

Misbehaving Abroad

BOULOGNE, France, Oct. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters)

The correctional court has convicted Mrs. Anson, a Canadian, of exceeding the speed limit, and neglecting the rules of the road, when she injured a boy through alleged carelessness last April. She was fined a total of 211 francs and ordered to pay the boy's father 25,000 francs.

BOARD HEARS APPEAL FOR INDUSTRIES

Opportunity Is Stressed by Speakers at Annual Dinner of Esquimalt Board of Trade

RAW MATERIALS SHOULD BE HELD

Agent-General in London Believes Province Is Not Developing as Rapidly as Possible

THE annual dinner of the Esquimalt Board of Trade, which was held last evening in the hall of St. Paul's Church, was made the occasion for a general expression of opinion with regard to the development of the industries in Greater Victoria which might be said to be peculiarly adapted to the location. The speakers lamented the fact that there was too great a tendency on the part of the district to have its products go out in a raw condition, instead of being utilized at home.

USE TIMBER AT HOME

Mr. Pooley, who was the first speaker, said he felt that with the best harbor on the coast, it was a shame that the timber from this island was going to Port Angeles to be manufactured. He also called attention to the press reports of the purchase by the British of aches and doors from Tacoma, and not from Canada. The policy should be to manufacture where it grew, as far as possible, and keep the boys and girls in the country.

In this connection he referred to the depletion of the timber about Cowichan Lake in recent years. "What have we got out of that?" he asked.

Mayor Fendray promised the fullest assistance on the part of the city to any project that would make for benefiting the district of Esquimalt. He alluded to the earnest effort now being made to work in the co-operation of all parts in this effort.

Mr. F. A. Pauline, Agent-General in London, agreed that while the province was developing, yet it was not as fast as could be wished. He believed that the turn was now being made, and that the future should be better. There was every hope, and he would lend all help he could.

BISHOP BARNES MAKES APPEAL

MODERNIST ADDRESSES OPEN LETTER TO ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

Aid Asked for Those Who Would Fit Church to Guide Spiritually an Educated Nation

LONDON, Oct. 19.—"No man shall drive me to Tennessee or Rome." This striking declaration, made today in an open letter to the Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of all England, is the Bishop of Birmingham's answer to the sensational protest made by Canon G. R. Bullock-Webster last Sunday to the Bishop's presence in the pulpit of historic St. Paul's Cathedral.

In an open letter to the Archbishop, Bishop Barnes, who is recognized as a scientist as well as a churchman, reaffirms his Modernist conception of the relation of science to religion, with which he has stirred up much controversy in England in recent years. He invites the primate to consider to London, he said, to discuss the possibilities of arranging a picture producing affiliation.

EVOLUTION AND SACRAMENTS

On the question of man's origin, the Bishop's letter says:

"Though all competent biologists accept man's evolution from an ape-like stock, the theological consequences of such belief are still seldom stated. I set myself years ago to expound these consequences and to show why they did not seem to me to upset the main Christian position."

On the question of Sacraments, which was the immediate cause of Canon Bullock-Webster's outburst in St. Paul's, Bishop Barnes in his letter reiterates his statement that the doctrine of transubstantiation is untrue.

"As every student of comparative religion knows," says the Bishop, "it has affinities with the magic-religious beliefs of a lower cultural level than that of our present civilization."

"No protest must hinder me as a Bishop, and indeed, as a Christian, from upholding religious truths. No man shall drive me to Tennessee or to Rome."

Labor Party Gains Victory in Norway

OSLO, Oct. 19.—The Labor Party won a striking victory in the election of members to the Storting, which was held Monday. Returns show Laborites had wrested more than a score of seats from the other parties, chiefly the Conservatives and Liberals. The Labor successes were mainly in the rural districts.

Annual Meeting Of Ward 4 to Be Held Tonight

There will be a meeting of Ward Four Conservative Association this evening in the rooms of the party in the Campbell Building. This will be the annual meeting of the organization, and will afford the opportunity for reviewing the work of the past year.

The election of officers and of the representatives in the central executive will take place at the meeting this evening.

It is desired that there shall be as large an attendance of the Conservatives of the ward as possible.

UNION ENDORSES ASIATIC BOYCOTT

Action of Delta Farmers Against Sale or Lease of Land to Orientals Is Approved

BOARDS OF TRADE APPROVE MEASURE

(By Staff Representative)

NANAIMO, Oct. 19.—Endorsement of the action taken by farmers in Delta, action which practically amounts to a boycott on Asiatics and which already had been endorsed by the Surrey Municipality, was given unanimously by the delegates attending the Union of B. C. Municipalities here this morning.

This resolution reads as follows: "Whereas it is a well-known fact that the Orientals of this province very largely control the potato and vegetable markets of our Pacific Coast, and further, that they are year by year, increasing their control of the fruit markets;

And whereas the farmers of Delta and other municipalities have to the extent of a large percentage of their arable acreage, signed a binding agreement that they will not sell, rent or lease, any land that they control to Orientals, this contract under heavy penalty being binding for five years;

And whereas the members of the Sumas Co-operative Growers' Association, and the Delta Co-operative Association, have instructed the directors of the Sumas Co-operative Association to include a clause in the contract between the association and its members, to the effect that they shall not sell or lease any land to Orientals, and with the same penalties as that contained in the Delta Co-operative contract;

And whereas the Surrey Municipal Council in meeting assembled have by resolution approved the movement;

And whereas the big majority of the Boards of Trade of the province have approved the movement; And whereas it is aimed and hoped that by this movement be put in every portion of the province;

Therefore, be it resolved that this, the Municipality of Delta, endorse the action taken by these various bodies in their stand against the Oriental element in the agricultural industry of this province;

And be it further resolved that the resolution be forwarded to the Union of B. C. Municipalities in session at Nanaimo, October 17, 1927, with the request that their aid and support be given by their various bodies in their stand against the Oriental element in the agricultural industry of this province.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS SPREADS IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 19.—Infantile paralysis has swept into practically every section of Oregon, it was said tonight by state health officers. Complete isolation of cases and rigid quarantine is being enforced in each district in which the disease has come to the fore.

Reports from the country at large indicate a decline in the epidemic, the state of Oregon reports a gain of twenty cases in the week.

Train Strikes Washout

TOWANDA, Pa., Oct. 19.—Lackawanna passenger train No. 28 struck a washout about three miles east of Hazleton tonight, and the engine and four cars crashed down a bank. Engineer Robert R. Scramm, Pa., and his fireman, whose names were not given, were killed, and the mail clerk and baggage clerk were seriously injured.

Turkey's Mussolini Meets Parliament

MUSTAFA KEMAL PASHA
That the half-million word four-day speech which Mustafa Kemal Pasha delivered before the Turkish assembly at Ankara was inspired in part by a desire to punish that body for its inactivity was the joking remark made by the speaker in his interview recently. This is his latest picture.

ALL CALGARY TO JOIN IN OVATION

CALGARY, Oct. 19.—Calgary plans a great reception to Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, on his return home Friday. From the interest displayed in the preparations, it will amount to an ovation from every citizen in the city.

The news of his selection as leader of the Conservative party was received with a great demonstration, but that will not be a circumstance with the reception planned for him by his fellow citizens.

FRENCH COURT LIKE THEATRE

Council for Defence Brandishes Pistol, Aims at Chair and Pulls Trigger of Empty Weapon

EVEN PARISIANS GASP IN SURPRISE

PARIS, Oct. 19.—An unexpected demonstration of a phase of the political situation in France was brought about by the Council for Defence today in the Court of Appeals.

Henri Torres, chief of counsel for the Union of French Veterans, charged with the murder of the former head of the Ukrainian State Army, suddenly drew an automatic pistol from beneath the folds of his black lawyer's robe. Leaping past colleagues, Torres faced Dr. Paul, expert prosecution witness, who was expounding to the court how Schwartzbard fired two bullets into General Petura's body after the latter had tumbled into the roadway at the corner of the Rue de la Bouche and the Rue St. Michael, where he was slain May 25, 1926.

AMATEUR THEATRICALS

Spectators gasped, not knowing why Torres was brandishing the revolver, as he fired two bullets into the trigger of the revolver. There were more gasps but no explosion.

The question of whether Schwartzbard fired bullets into General Petura's body was the subject of the trial, for there has been no question of who did the killing. Schwartzbard yesterday related in vivid detail just how he saw the General and shot him down because he believed him the instigator of pogroms in Ukraine in which thousands of Jews were massacred. Torres' demonstration was to show that the bullets fired while the General was down would have taken a different course than those revealed by the autopsy. Extra forces of gendarmes that guarded the courtroom yesterday while Schwartzbard told his dramatic story, again patrolled the corridor to prevent demonstration of racial feeling. Witnesses and lawyers consumed most of the day in flights of oratory and histrionic exhibitions.

Reginald Smith, an English teacher, who is a reputed eyewitness of the assassination, acted out what he saw and recited to the Shakespeare to describe the expression on Schwartzbard's face as General Petura fell.

What Is Perfumery?

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Ability of the railway companies and the retail merchants to arrive at an understanding as to the distinction between the meaning of the words "perfume" and "perfumery" saved the Board of Railway Commissioners today from having to listen to a long argument about freight rates on the latter.

The railways recently imposed a high class tariff on "perfumery" and the trade objected. After consultation it was discovered that the railways meant only to impose their tariff on expensive French perfumes and the tariff is being amended by substitution of the word "perfumery" for "perfume". The higher rate does not object to the word "perfumery" which was explained to the commission is a trade term used in reference to toilet preparations which "smell nice."

REDISTRIBUTE SCHOOL TAXES SAY TRUSTEES

Contribution by Non-Ratepayers Is Advocated in Resolution Submitted by Vancouver Members

MARKING OF PRICES ON BOOKS DESIRED

Changes in Regulations Relating to Entrance to High Schools Are Recommended—Other Proposals

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS, B.C., Oct. 19.—Entrance examinations and promotion methods were discussed at length by the British Columbia School Trustees' Convention at today's session, three resolutions being passed as follows:

The pupils in assisted schools be permitted to write the examinations in their schools; that entrance class teachers in one to three-roomed schools, now prohibited from doing so, be given the privilege of recommending pupils for promotion to high schools, and that pupils showing high averages during the year, but failing examinations through nervousness, be given a credit of five per cent of the total marks.

Replying to an objection that the recommendation privilege in small schools would be abused, Mrs. G. E. Beckett, Saanich, declared that all teachers should be of high standard capable of recommending.

Changes in government taxes derived from licences, gas and liquor, was sought by rural districts, and a resolution to that effect was endorsed.

Vancouver carried a resolution urging more equitable distribution of school taxes, the government to devise the means, after it was pointed out that it was intended to make Orientals and nonlandowners contribute to school maintenance.

Legislation providing for the creation of parental boarding schools for truants and delinquent children, rather than placing them in detention homes, was strongly recommended.

Other recommendations passed were that the government have uniform prices placed on text books, and that all instructions issued by the department to teachers be sent also to school boards.

British Cruiser Lands Party on Solomon Islands

SUVA, Fiji Islands, Oct. 19.—The British cruiser Adelaide has anchored at Suva, Fiji Islands, and in the Solomon group, in the southwestern Pacific, and landed a party of sailors who will operate with local authorities from a base camp to punish the perpetrators of the recent massacre in which several officers, including white persons, were killed.

This information was received here today, although details of the uprising are still lacking. It is reported that the murders were committed by members of two bush tribes, some 200 to 300 natives of Malaita taking part in the outrage. Since the attack more than 800 natives have been collected at Auki, government headquarters in Malaita, and others are coming daily to offer their services to the authorities in effecting the arrest of the outlaws.

SEATTLE HOLDS PEACE BANQUET

To Celebrate 100th Anniversary of Disarmament of Boundary—Canadian Guests

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—To celebrate with Seattle the 100th anniversary of the disarmament of the Canadian province of the Vancouver International Club, will address the Seattle Peace Society at its goodwill dinner tomorrow evening.

The banquet is to commemorate the signing of the peace pact between Canada and the United States on October 20, 1818. This treaty began the friendly relations between the two countries which have been strengthened as the years have passed.

Another guest of the society at the celebration will be Brigadier General W. W. Odium, publisher of The Vancouver Morning Star. He will also speak.

J. L. Greenwell is toast master of the evening.

A large number of representative citizens will also be present at the banquet to welcome the Canadian visitors and to express their friendship and esteem.

EXPLOSION STARTS TERRIFIC BLAZE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—A score of workmen leaped to safety from windows of the 8th Flinch Chemical Company plant late today when an explosion blew away most of the roof and started a fire which immediately became uncontrollable.

Flames shooting a hundred feet in the air threw out such intense heat that firemen were unable to bring hoses within a quarter of a mile, and the building was destroyed at an estimated loss of $500,000.

U.S. Delegates Fail to Obtain Endorsement of Proposal as to Exports

Effort to Secure Pronouncement From Geneva Conference in Line With United States Interests on Right to Resources of Other Lands Is Not Understood

Other Members of Conference Find Proposed Amendment Not Acceptable

GENEVA, Oct. 19.—The American amendment to the proposed treaty for the removal of restrictions on exports, introduced by Hugh R. Wilson, Minister to Switzerland, at the International Conference on this subject today, found no favor in the meeting of the subcommittee to which it was referred, and the indications tonight were that the American delegates must be content with some compromise.

The draft treaty provides that when licenses are required for exportation, and as long as they comply with the provisions of the convention for simplification of customs formalities.

The United States is not a party to this convention, and Mr. Wilson said it was desirable to repeat its stipulations with the additional provision that when rationing of exports and imports was necessary, all the signatories shall have the right to an equitable share in proportion of their normal volume of trade in the particular class of goods affected. He also contended that no distinction should be made between direct and indirect shipments.

The majority of the delegates on the committee criticized the American suggestion as too vague, saying they failed to understand the meaning of the phrase that when countries ration their exports account should be taken of the buying country's "normal volume of trade."

Mr. Burrup, French delegate, in an effort to bring about a solution of the troublesome situation, introduced a compromise paragraph whereby rationing exports would be equitable to all countries, this being judged essential to the just administration of international trade.

Mr. Wilson informed the committee that this might prove a satisfactory basis for discussion, and has called the text of the compromise paragraph to Washington.

COAST GUARD TO LOOK OTHER WAY

WITNESS AN SEATTLE TRIAL GIVES EVIDENCE AGAINST CAPTAIN DODGE

Officer Said to Have Attended Meeting to Give Assurance to Liquor Smuggler

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—Testimony that Captain F. G. Dodge, former commander of the United States coast guard for the North Pacific, was connected, indirectly at least, with the asserted conspiracy of Roy Olmstead and 100 others to flood the Pacific Northwest with Canadian liquor, was offered in Federal Court here today by Alfred M. Hubbard, disbarred Federal prohibition agent. Captain Dodge retired from the coast guard last year.

This information was received here today, although details of the uprising are still lacking. It is reported that the murders were committed by members of two bush tribes, some 200 to 300 natives of Malaita taking part in the outrage. Since the attack more than 800 natives have been collected at Auki, government headquarters in Malaita, and others are coming daily to offer their services to the authorities in effecting the arrest of the outlaws.

Early in 1925, Hubbard testified, "Olmstead and I went to a hotel in Seattle to have a conference with Berry. We met Berry there and also Captain Dodge of the coast guard, who was embarrassed but agreed to be present to personally assure Berry that the coast guard would lay off Olmstead's boats so that there would be little danger of getting into trouble."

Mr. Rivett came to Canada last Spring and was given a great deal of publicity in Eastern Canada. Then he left for the West to prospect for gold in the Jackson-Marion claims, at Woman Lake, he adopted the name of Peter Jackson "to avoid publicity" and to be on a level with those with whom he expected to work, as he put it.

During the war Mr. Rivett was a midshipman on a battleship. He served in the battle of Zeebrugge, and for bravery was commissioned lieutenant. For a short time during the engagement, he was in command of the ship; all his senior officers had been killed or wounded. He later was seriously wounded. Three of his brothers were killed in action in France and a sister was killed by a bomb while acting as interpreter with the British forces. His father, a prominent military man in England, and his mother, daughter of the late Lord Addington, both died some years ago.

ACCIDENT ENDS VARIED CAREER

British Officer Killed in Winnipeg Had Distinguished War Record—At Zeebrugge

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19.—Bernard Addington Rivett, who was killed yesterday as the result of being thrown from a horse, was the grandson of the late Lord Addington of Shipley Hall, Derby, England.

Mr. Rivett had completed arrangements to leave for the East today and intended to sail for England in November from Halifax on the O. F. Warwick, commanded by his brother.

Mr. Rivett came to Canada last Spring and was given a great deal of publicity in Eastern Canada. PRINCE OF WALES HAS ARDUOUS DAY

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., Oct. 19.—The Prince of Wales is accustomed to hunting, but he had to extend himself during a five hours' visit to this South Coast resort today in order to fit into the plans of the townfolk, who had made him the leading figure in nineteen different ceremonies. The chief ceremony was the opening of a new wing of Bournemouth Hospital. He smiled, bowed and "speared" his way through the ceremonies and was cheered by the thousands of townfolk as well as people from the outlying districts, who had journeyed here by bus.

EX-NOTARIES PUBLIC MEET

Gathering Will Be Held Here of Representatives of Displaced Officials

CHARACTER OF EXAMINATION SET

There will be a meeting this afternoon of ex-notaries public who, under the amendments to the act governing the office, find themselves now off the list. The meeting will be held in the office of Mr. H. T. Barnes, Rithet Consolidated Limited, Wharf Street. The meeting is called for 3 o'clock.

Under the amendments introduced by the Government last session, provision was made for the holding of examinations for all who might apply to be enrolled as notaries public. Provision was also made that existing holders of the office might have their names retained provided they made application for such a course within six months of the date of the passing of the act.

The six months probation period passed with a comparatively small number of those concerned making the application to have their names continued. The result has been that they have all been struck off the list, with marked inconvenience in many cases.

In this connection a number of officials of the Government who require to hold such office for the purpose of taking affidavits in connection with the discharge of their duties, have been struck off the list to the inconvenience of themselves and the public.

BASIS OF EXAMINATION

Under the amendment of last session provision was made that there should be rules prepared by the Chief Justice of British Columbia to govern the conduct of examinations, and appeals against applicants who might in future desire to become notaries public. These rules have now been promulgated.

Provision is made for the application being made by persons desiring to become notaries public. These shall be made to the court registrars. There shall be due notice given of the application, and the date of the hearing of it. Provision is also made whereby objection may be taken to the application, and the grounds on which it may be heard by the judge.

Provision is made for the holding of the necessary examination that will be required to be passed in future by the persons who become notaries public.

THE RULES

The examination for applicants shall be by written papers on each of the following subjects:

Notarial Acts and the practice and duties of a notary and particularly in relation to the following subjects: (1) Real property; (2) personal property; (3) mercantile law; (4) wills; (5) trusts and trustees; (6) contracts; (7) Dominion and provincial statutes relating to the foregoing.

An applicant shall not be held to have passed the examination satisfactorily unless he obtains at least sixty-six per cent of the total marks allowed for all papers and at least fifty per cent of the marks allowed for each separate paper.

An applicant who obtains sixty-six per cent of the total marks allowed on all papers but fails in not more than two separate papers to obtain fifty per cent of the marks allowed for such paper may take supplementary examination in the subject or subjects in which he has so failed, and the examiners may certify that such applicant has passed the whole examination satisfactorily if, on such supplementary examination, the applicant obtains not less than sixty-six per cent of the marks allowed for each paper in which he formerly failed.

Applicants shall be examined at such times and places or places as the examiners, having regard to the reasonable convenience of applicants, shall in their discretion appoint, and all arrangements for the examination shall be under the control of the examiners.

The fees to be paid to the examiners by applicants shall be:

For setting questions and reading answers: $5 for each subject.

For supervising applicants during examination: $1 per hour.

UNION ASKS FOR HOSPITAL RELIEF

Will Ask Provincial Government to Consider Health Insurance and Taking Over of Hospital

(By Staff Representative)

NANAIMO, Oct. 19.—Having already deferred action at yesterday afternoon's session on the question of reducing the hospital grant by municipalities of seventy cents per day per patient sent to the hospital, the Union of B. C. Municipalities at its session this morning, advocated action of a far more revolutionary character. That discussed early in the convention.

After considerable discussion this morning the union went on record as approving of the resolution asking the Provincial government to consider the advisability of the system of State health insurance and the taking over of the hospitals by the province.

It was claimed that in this way all friction between municipalities as to the amount of contribution to the hospitals would be eliminated. It was also felt that hospital institutions which should become a charge of the State.

DEAN INGE SENDS SHARP RESPONSE

Will Have No Communication With Canon Bullock-Webster Until Latter Apologizes

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Singing his letter to Canon G. R. Bullock-Webster, "Your obedient servant," Dean Inge of St. Paul's Cathedral wrote sharply to the cleric, who made a protest in the Cathedral against Bishop Barnes, who was preaching there.

Dean Inge wrote "Since you have had the impudence to write me in connection with what occurred yesterday, I must reply that until I receive from you a full and proper apology to Dean and Chapter for your scandalous and disgraceful behavior in bawling in the Cathedral, I must refuse to have any communication with you whatever."

TORONTO PRESBYTERY NOT CHEERFUL GIVER

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—Rev. T. W. Stephen, of Kingston, was yesterday elected Moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Toronto and Kingston.

The delegates were informed that although assessed for $1,000, the Toronto Presbytery had not contributed one cent last year to synod funds. Rev. A. G. Smith, treasurer, said it was like drawing teeth to get money out of the Toronto Presbytery.

Major Birch, Moderator of the Presbytery here, replied: "It's all on hand but $999.99. It is like pulling teeth except that there are no teeth to pull. The clerk's salary has not been paid, and he is paying postage out of his own pocket."

Midsummer Heat Holds Sway Over Prairie Provinces

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19.—Indian Summer still holds sway in Western Canada today with the mercury soaring well above 80 at a number of points. Threshing was in full swing at all points in the three Prairie Provinces with prospects of most of the 1927 crop being garnered by the end of the week. Considerable headway has also been made with Fall ploughing.

A midsummer heat wave, which has enveloped the West for the past three days, is destined to last another day at least, says an announcement from the Dominion Weather Bureau.

Empress, Alta., with a reading of 84 degrees in the shade, was the warmest spot in Canada yesterday.

"Oh, yes," said the busy man, stopping his work for a minute to look up, "but I want one with four legs."

rheumatic pains, nervousness, un-sound sleep and weak, listless feelings. Mrs. Wallis, who reports that Husky has greatly benefited her health, has the following to say in regard to her case.

"I was suffering with stomach trouble and had lost my appetite, as my stomach was so weak that it couldn't digest or assimilate my food. Even plain foods seemed to upset my stomach. I was weak and run down. Then I became very nervous and I was really in a miserable condition."

"I am feeling much better now, however, and I am glad to let others know that I have Husky to thank for my improvement. Husky just had a wonderful effect on my stomach, aiding digestion and restoring my appetite. I have gained in strength and I am not nervous like I was."

Shon Yee Benevolent Association Marks Event With Celebration and Two Banquets

The opening of the Victoria branch of the Shon Yee Benevolent Association of Canada, a charitable organization that has been in existence for twelve years, took place at Sunday, the event being attended by representatives from all other Chinese societies in Victoria.

Following the ceremony, a play entitled, "More Precious Than Gold" was given by the association, and attended by Canadian friends, and among those present were the Chinese acting consul, Mr. Loh, and Mr. Tsou Mow Shum, editor of the "Tai Hou Bo," a Vancouver Chinese newspaper.

Mr. Henry Loo delivered the opening address, which was received with rounds of applause. This was followed by entertainment, including the "lion dance" and Chinese styles of self defence. Mr. Frank Merryfield and partner delighted the audience with their splendid performance of feats of magic and mystery.

On Monday evening, a banquet was given at the Peking Chop Suey Restaurant by the association, and attended by Canadian friends. A fine repast was enjoyed, and a number of prominent guests delivered orations to the assembly.

MINING MEN TO MEET ON COAST

B.C. Division of Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy to Sit in Vancouver and Nanaimo

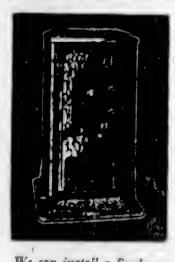

The annual general meeting of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, to be held in Vancouver on November 23 and 24, and in Nanaimo on November 25, is anticipated by mining men throughout the province with great interest.

The meetings in the past have invariably attracted large attendances and have been memorably enjoyable. The present one will undoubtedly prove no exception to the rule. In brief, the programme as arranged will include reviews of the principal mining developments of the year by the Provincial Mineralogist, Mr. J. D. Galloway, by the British Columbia representative of the Geological Survey, Dr. V. Dolan, and by the resident engineers. This will occupy the first morning session. The remaining three sessions in Vancouver will be occupied by discussions on three major topics, namely: "Recent im-

We can install a Sunbeam Cabinet Heater in your home, in less than an hour, wherever a stove can be placed.

It remained for the largest makers of heating equipment in the world to produce such a superior Cabinet Heater as the Sunbeam. In appearance a fine piece of furniture, in principle and operation a furnace, the Sunbeam Cabinet Heater heats the 5 to 7 room home, yet requires no basement. It can be completely installed in less than an hour. Replaces two or more stoves. The Sunbeam has a heating unit of the furnace type, built entirely of heavy-weight cast iron. The fire pot alone weighs 84 pounds. It will last a lifetime and will retain its heating efficiency and handsome appearance, indefinitely. This year, Sunbeam Quality talks Fire. You can now obtain this superior heating device at no greater cost than that of an inferior heater. Increased demand and volume production make this possible. There will be a banquet on Thursday evening, November 24, following which Colonel W. W. Foster will deliver a popular lecture on "The Retreat From Mons." On the morning of the third day of the meeting, steamer will be taken to Nanaimo, where there will be an afternoon session devoted mainly to a general discussion of the "Beneficiation of Coal," to be introduced in a paper by Professor Robert H. THE WINNING OF NELSON

Premier MacLean says that "considering the factors operating against the Government there, the by-election result is a striking victory." He is well satisfied with the issue at Nelson. One of the chief factors operating in that constituency during the course of the recent by-election campaign was the strength which the Government, per se, was able to bring into play. It chose a special time, suitable to Liberal purposes, for holding the by-election. Four of its Ministers took part in the campaign. Money, which is spent at a premium for the purpose of "converting" the electorate. The party machine was liberally oiled and greased, and worked smoothly. Promises made from the platform and other promises made sub rosa, but in such a way as to influence the greatest number of votes, were poured out with that prolific abandon which is adopted to win votes at any price. The Government, as such, is the keeper of the spoils and it made clear to the electors of Nelson that to the victors belong those spoils, a motto which has governed the making of appointments, the letting of contracts and various other governmental activities ever since the Liberals came into power in British Columbia.

Despite the character of the appeal which was made to the voters of Nelson, the Liberal candidate was only elected by such a slim majority that the reversal of the political complexion of a slim fifteen votes would have turned the scale. The Government, however, is well satisfied with the result. It has not the political courage to tell the people that a few more such victories and it would be undone. It has gained nothing in the three by-elections which have been held during recent months, yet Dr. MacLean says that he is well satisfied, perhaps satisfied because the Government is not slipping from the point of vantage which it enjoys in having polled through its supporters less than thirty-five per cent of the votes cast in the last general election.

The fact of the matter is that, except in relation to the calibre of the rival candidates, the Government enjoyed every advantage in the Nelson by-election contest. It threw the full weight of Ministerial promises into the scale. It spent money profusely, being admirably equipped with campaign funds which flow into the party treasury because of the patronage system. It chose what it deemed, according to the mentality of the Ministers, a psychological time to hold the by-election. With all these elements in its favor it won Nelson, not handsomely or decisively, but by a frail majority which, we venture to believe, Dr. MacLean and his Ministers in their hearts understand is in the nature of the handwriting on the wall.

CONNAUGHT SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE

Very appropriately the Connaught Seamen's Institute is to hold its annual tag day this week-end, the event falling on the day after Trafalgar's anniversary, when the thoughts of so many are directed to the fortunes of those who go down to the sea in ships. The Equilmalt Sailors' Club, which did such excellent work for so many years, has closed its doors, and, therefore, the onus of looking after the needs and recreation of sailors while in port here falls on the Connaught Seamen's Institute. Its upkeep is largely dependent on public generosity and public appreciation of what the people owe to the merchant marine. With only one such institute now existing between the ports of Victoria and Esquimalt, there is obviously more work and more expense attached than during the time the Sailors' Club was an institution. The efforts of the Ladies' Guild are an accumulating burden. That organization, which is so largely responsible for keeping the Seamen's Institute going, realizes that if its energies lapse the work now being done for sailors visiting Vancouver Island will cease. It would be a sorry reflection on this port if such were to happen. It can only be prevented by the desire of the public to see the work carried on in the past.

At a time when Victoria is straining its efforts to build up commerce to and from this port the need for the Connaught Seamen's Institute becomes enhanced. If more ships are to make this a terminus, or a port of call, there will be all the more seamen constantly in our midst, and, therefore, all the greater necessity to cater to their wants while here. Support of the Connaught Seamen's Institute should go hand in hand with port development. Saturday's tag day is therefore an incentive to our people to show their appreciation of the seamen who are playing their part in building up the port's trade. The hands of the Ladies' Guild should be sustained and the activities of the Connaught Seamen's Institute should not be allowed to lapse in any particular from lack of public support. The people, when they appreciate what the need is, will, we believe, give generously.

SMOKING AND MENTALITY

Dr. Rosslyn Earp, of Antioch College, Ohio, has been carrying out investigations into the effect of smoking on scholarship, but seemingly has confined them to the students who come under his immediate purview. A year ago he said that among 304 male students in his college the non-smokers were more successful as scholars and athletes than the smokers. More recently, in a letter to The Lancet, he admits after further researches a weakening in his case against tobacco as a cause of mental deficiency. He maintains, however, that the superiority of the non-smokers in scholarship is as clear as ever, as it almost certainly is in the case of athletics.

In reviewing what Dr. Earp claims The London Times asks if tobacco, like temptation, sorts out the weak from the strong? It admits that this view "is a flat contradiction of all the accepted opinions," because, "most heavy smokers, in their secret hearts, believe that their indulgence is a sign and symbol of that kind of intellectual superiority which creative artists possess." Dr. Earp's suggestion appears to be that there are weaker brethren who require a mild sedative to face the stress of intellectual life. His definition of scholarship is a special and restricted form of intellectual effort, but not necessarily the highest form. According to The Times he esteems scholarship as largely a matter of memory whereas creative minds are forgetful. The Times says: "The first well-known Englishman, according to Sir Humphrey Rolleston, who made a practice of smoking cigarettes was Laurence Oliphant, who learned the habit in Russia. It is doubtful whether or not Laurence Oliphant would have won a high place for himself at the Antioch College in Ohio."

"We could learn much from the crows and from the other little people of the groves and forests," says The Charlotte Guardian. "We have much in common with them, and they know much more about some things than we do. They mind their own business, which, like our own, is to make a living and to bring up their young in the way they should go—as crows—and this is more than some of us can do." In British Columbia, however, there is a bounty on crows, and they are condemned to death—for minding their own business.

Ward Four Conservatives elect their executive for the coming year tonight. Good advice to them is to choose such officers as will stand loyally behind Dr. S. F. Tolmie and strengthen his hands.

Words of Wisdom

Violation of law always brings retribution, which is all the more tragic because the punishment of society is not by any means due in most cases to conscious transgression by the wrongdoer, nor does it fall upon them.—Sir Robert Falconer.

Works of the intellect are great only by comparison with each other.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Mark how fleeting and paltry is the estate of man.—Yesterday in embryo, tomorrow a mummy or ashes. So for the hair-breadth of time aspires to live rationally, and depart with life cheerfully, as drops the ripe olive, extolling the season that bore it and the tree that matured it.—Marcus Aurelius.

There is upon the earth something greater, more divine, than the individual, namely, humanity—the collective being, always living, learning, advancing towards God.—Joseph Mazzini.

No cord nor cable can so forcibly draw, or hold so fast, as love can do with a twined thread.—Robert Burton.

A FIFTY-FIFTY AFFAIR

(From The Vancouver Province)
The Government has won by the skin of its teeth in Nelson. The opposition has missed victory by a close shave. But victory is victory, especially in politics, and a miss, especially in a by-election, is as good—or bad—as a mile. So the Government may be congratulated at least upon its narrow escape from a by-election defeat which would have had exceedingly awkward consequences, and which—seeing that it was a by-election, with all the cards in favor of the party in power—would have been exceedingly hard to explain away. While the Opposition may be congratulated—or consoled—upon a near-victory which would certainly have been whole and complete if the occasion had been a general election, with a fair field and no favor.

As to Nelson itself, our congratulations are not so qualified. Nelson will find an honest and capable representative in Mayor J. A. McDonald, and would have done the same if his opponent, Dr. L. E. Borden, had been elected. There was little to choose between the two candidates on the personal side; both were well liked and respected; there was no ill-will between them in the light of the result. In the result, and seeing that the great rivalry in the contest was merely as to which of these two excellent citizens should have the privilege of providing Nelson with a Kuonhokan River bridge, we can only say that we only hope and pray—with Nelson that Nelson will somehow or other—if nothing goes awry, and if the MacLean-Pattullo Government doesn't forget about it—get its road and its bridge.

We are not quite so certain, however, of our respective congratulations to Doctors MacLean and Tolmie. The Premier, it is true, has nominally received the mandate he asked for, and doubtless he will feel justified in going down to Ottawa and telling the Interprovincial Conference that he and his Government are the voice of British Columbia. But since Nelson will hardly encourage him to do what he ought to do about reorganizing his Cabinet, and making it more truly representative of the province, we can not feel quite so unqualified delight in the Nelson victory as Premier MacLean says he is feeling. We think indeed it might be better for the Premier and his Party if they were humble in such a victory as this, for a few more such victories would be ruinous.

Dr. Tolmie has more reason to feel encouraged. He seems to be a good campaigner, and he seems to make an excellent impression wherever he goes. We hope he will feel encouraged enough to deal with the matter of contents of his own Party with a firm hand. He says he is confident of victory at the next general election. Well, he may have good grounds for that confidence, but it is likely to be undermined unless he deals firmly with the challenge to his leadership which is involved in the notorious intrigues of a faction of Victoria Conservatives.

FLIES

"Until people become as ashamed of having flies about their homes as they are now of having fleas I do not think we will make much progress."

The question of disease borne by the fly is important, and although the majority of the medical profession learned about the fly during the way they are not giving sufficient attention to spreading the lessons to people in civil life.—Lieut. Col. T. B. Layton.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Just when we had made up our minds that another Great War was an impossibility and that readers of the newspapers would have to be satisfied with meagre and disjointed and unsatisfactory reports of the unprogressive little war in China, a dispatch appears in the newspapers announcing that the Greatest of All Wars will begin in the Spring of next year. The precise date of the beginning and the exact date of the ending of this Greatest of All Wars are given. Those dates are recorded on one of the stones in one of the ancient pyramids of Egypt; and we suppose if anyone is sceptical about the matter, he may go to Egypt and remove his doubts by reading the records. We shall not do that, for no one who is in a sceptical state of mind can correctly interpret the handwriting on the wall of that practically indestructible old pyramid.

While we are waiting for the next and the Greatest of All Wars to begin, we are being entertained, but not being instructed or edified, by wars between religious Fundamentalists and Philosophical Evolutionists. A few months ago we were all entertained by a little war between the Religious Fundamentalists and the Philosophical Evolutionists of one of the States of the Sunny South. The secular authorities interfered and quelled that local insurrection by cutting off the professional head of the cause of it.

A little war of practically the same kind has broken out in Canada—up Toronto, to be precise, where scoffers say the people are more bitterly theological than fundamentally religious. Another war of a similar kind but of greater potentialities has broken out in Great Britain. After reading about what happened at a meeting of Christians in Toronto and in a meeting in a cathedral in London, we remembered reading somewhere else something like the following: "He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh; the Lord will hold them in derision." "Whoso calleth his brother a fool is in danger of hell fire." "Behold how these Christians love one another." One of the Toronto brethren called his brother a liar and threatened to cast him over the balcony into the pit of the edifice in which they were holding brotherly communion and discussing points of Christian doctrine in truly Christian spirit.

The spirit in which churches conduct their business and their controversies is no concern of newspapers, although we notice that some of the British newspapers have been commenting on what a Canon of the Anglican Church said in an Anglican cathedral in London. We are not going to be so indiscreet as to become involved in a controversy of that kind or to involve The Colonist in a controversy of such a kind. But we are glad that it is no longer possible for Christians who appear to hate each other for the love of God to kill each other for the love of God, that it is no longer possible for a newspaper to publish a story about the burning of a Bishop or about the burning of a lower degree for publicly expressing what some other Christian authority considers heretical theological views.

If we have read the records truly and interpreted them correctly, there were religious controversies from the beginning. We believe it is recorded that the Founder of the Christian religion engaged in controversy with the elders in the Temple. The elders were the Fundamentalists of their day. They accused the new Teacher of being both an evolutionist and a revolutionist, of striving to undermine the foundations of both religion and state. They hated Him for theological reasons and they obtained the consent of the state to His death for political reasons.

And yet in heart and spirit we are in sympathy with the views of Fundamentalists. That is to say we do not want to see anything changed for the mere purpose of observing how a thing will look after it is changed. We do not advocate a revolution of any kind from simple or childish motives of curiosity. It is of no particular consequence to anybody if a large number of people read and interpret the Bible literally and believe that the world was created in six days or if a smaller number of people read the Bible rationally and believe that the world and all it contains are the products of a creative hand operating upon it for hundreds of millions of years. It is not what a person thinks that is of any particular importance; it is that a person does that is of fundamental importance. "Love thy neighbor as thyself," and cease from controversy and denunciation. When the first Preacher of the Christian religion desired to preach an effective sermon we are told that he took a little child and set it down in the midst of his congregation. If modern preachers were to follow such a precedent there might be fewer divisions and sub-divisions in the Christian Church.

It is important that all Conservatives should, if they have any interest in the work of the ward, attend these meetings and record their votes.

FARMERS' TAXES

Sir,—As a taxpayer in the municipality of Saanich and a one-time rancher in that district, I have been requested to draw attention to an impost which is bearing hardly upon those who are struggling to scratch a living from the soil. By public speakers and the press the cause of the peninsula have for long been urged to produce for the benefit of the City of Victoria, their sole franchise, and by so doing to go as far as it is possible to go in excluding foreign products, and the cry of "Encourage Home Products" is being sung in our ears.

But, alas! the Saanich farmer is encouraged by the imposition of a tax of $60 a year by the City Corporation, upon every producer, if detected, who ventures to cross the city boundary with a motor truck or humble buggy laden with the hard-earned produce of his acreage, upon which he already disburses a considerable sum in taxes to the country municipality, and this irrespective of whether he is peddling his wares in fulfilling contracts.

It is understood that the impost, in happier and more prosperous times, was restricted to the nominal sum of $10 a year, but that the Municipality of Saanich placed a charge of a higher amount on this upon vehicles conveying goods from the city into the country, whereupon the corporation retaliated by raising the charge to the present amount. The city needs the produce of the land, and the country needs some of the food, such as meat, groceries and the like purveyed in the town, as well as goods such as wire, tools, motor parts and the numerous necessities and luxuries of life.

We hear and read much about a Greater Victoria, an idea to be encouraged on account of the mutual advantages which it is hoped would accrue to both town and country, but the present policy of retaliatory taxation would seem to tend to encourage the growth of that idea. It has been suggested that the two corporations should confer on this subject with a view to the mutual advantage of both town and country.

PERCY JAMES,
1601 Richmond Avenue, Victoria,
B.C., October 19, 1927.

DISTILLATION OF TIMBER

Sir,—In recent issues of The Colonist I have read several interesting letters relating to land clearing on Vancouver Island by Mr. J. B. Thornhill from some stump and swamp to scientific distillation of fir stumps, with an essay on the possible manufacture of Stockholm tar as a by-product of burning tree stumps and roots. I may say that land clearing question is a subject I discussed twenty-five years ago with the idea of utilizing the by-products of destructive distillation of the timber.

To clear a patch of land on this wild and rugged coast is surely a no less arduous and heart-breaking problem. I quite agree with Mr. Thornhill that Sweden has for many years manufactured large quantities of Stockholm tar, and I remember that large supplies were used by rope manufacturers in the North of England. At the same time I was well acquainted with a small manufactory for the destructive distillation of timber, utilizing the by-products to a great extent. The timber was carbonized in two large retorts for the purpose of a condenser, which was simply a wooden tank where a small stream of water entered at one end and came out at the other, where the gaseous products were liquified and passed into a receiver as pyrolysate. This being saturated with a small amount of lime was reported in pans to form acetate of lime which forms the basis for the manufacture of acetic acid, which may be manufactured at the same time and place or sent to any other district for treatment as circumstances required.

In the North of England at the time I speak of it was used by leather works in the manufacture of white lead, which is the chief basis of all the pigments, and is made by subliming the lead ore in an atmosphere charged with carbonic acid gas and steam in presence of acetic acid. The charcoal remaining after the distillation of this mixture was disposed of to copper works to be used in the refining of their copper.

As a great part of the timber on this Coast consists of hemlock, it is a question whether this may be suitable for the manufacture of Stockholm tar. However, I would like to submit to Mr. Thornhill or any of your correspondents who are interested in land clearing.

THE LITTLE ROAD
There is a road that winds away towards sunset's gold at end of day.
A little road that beckons me before it hides behind a tree. It seems a road that turns and winds; I wonder what the traveler finds along its leafy, song-sweet way.

I know, past stile-blocks from the long ago. Another road lies by my door where travellers journey, score on score, and yet it has no lure for me, its course is mapped for all to see. But I would fare alone that way, so dim with leaves, with birds to say to find the charms that tempt me on, the lost delights of long ago!

B.C. FOXES ARE FOUND THE BEST

Mr. H. L. Clipham Conducting Inspection of Fur Farms Throughout the Dominion

That fox furs produced in British Columbia are second to none in Canada in regard to quality, is the contention of Mr. H. L. Clipham, who is in the city in connection of a survey of fox farms being made by the Canadian Silver Fox Breeders' Association and the National Livestock Records Department at Ottawa. The object of the yearly Dominion-wide inspection is to cull out all the unworthy animals and to keep pure and improve the breed.

The fur market for silver foxes has shown an increase of from fifteen to twenty per cent each year for the last three years, and present indications are that a further increase in price will be evidenced during the winter. Mr. Clipham stated, fells are sold at all the great fur sales of the world in open competition and the present supply far from meets the steady demand. Contrary to popular belief, increased production has not succeeded in decreasing the price, as with other commodities.

Silver fox furs are used in the manufacture of ladies' high grade scarves and for trimming coats and other garments. A fur coat made of properly graded and matched skins would cost in the neighborhood of $40,000 at present prices. Ordinary pelts bring from $150 to $300, while others run as high as $500.

Mr. Clipham said that fox pups from pedigree stock must each stand an individual inspection and must stand up to specifications before their registration is allowed. Foxes which produce low grade pups are suspended by the association. In 1926, under the Department of Agriculture, 40,000 pups were inspected throughout Canada, as well as 40,000 full-grown foxes.

In 1925, when Mr. Clipham last inspected foxes in the province, there were only twenty-five registered ranches, and now there is a total of sixty-eight from Prince Rupert to the American border. He mentioned that in Ontario if a fox escapes from its pen it is considered the property of the person who registered the animal, as any other livestock, and must not be shot, as is permitted in some provinces of Canada.

Price of Ticket

To Australia by Plane is $15,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The price of an airplane passage from San Francisco to Australia is, in case anybody cares for the quotation, $15,000. Such a figure was set here yesterday by Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, commander of the monoplane Southern Cross, which is being groomed for a flight to the Antipodes soon.

Several young women have applied for passage, but none of them had that much money to spend for the adventure, Captain Kingsford-Smith said.

"It is purely a business proposition," the commander declared. "We furnish the plane. It is up to the passenger to furnish $15,000."

Smallpox Breaks Out

In College in Toronto

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—Six students from Victoria College residences have been removed to the hospital suffering from mild cases of smallpox.

All freshmen residences of Victoria College are being quarantined, as all those taken sick were in their first year. Those successfully vaccinated before will be quarantined for three days to see if any new cases develop, while those never before vaccinated will be in quarantine for two weeks.

To prevent any further spread of the disease, two vaccination centres have been set up in the University of Toronto. Up to the present vaccination has not been made compulsory.

A HAPPY MAN

Who envies no one and who covets nothing, who has no confidence—tho' his be sought;
Whose best convictions are of iron wrought;
A happy man is he.

Who laughs at Fortune, yet, as oft is blown,
Who scorns earth's laurels for his noble deeds;
Implores no mercy—never intercedes,
A happy man is he.

Who breathes no scandal and incurs no blame;
Who lives outside all puerile clique and clan;
Reveres all women—trusts his fellowman;

Who lives life fully—fears not any doom;
Whom smiles in sorrow dispart all gloom;
A happy man is he.

SECOND CAVE-IN AT NICKEL MINE

SUDBURY, Ont., Oct. 19.—A second cave-in at the Mond Nickel Company's mine, at Worthington early today has put the Canadian Pacific Railway division at this point temporarily out of commission. The east bank of the cavity sloughed for a distance of one hundred feet and twenty feet in depth.

but did not drag the roadbed into the cavity. However, the tracks are not considered safe for traffic, as the ground has been undermined.

Trains for the next week will be routed from Sudbury over the Alameda Eastern Railway tracks as far as Turbine, where there is a cut-off onto the Soo branch of the C.P.R., and the service will not be materially affected. This was the second cave-in of the mine, the first occurred on the morning of October 4, at Worthington, about twenty-five miles west of here, sounding the death knell of one of the oldest nickel properties in the district.

TWO QUESTIONS TO BE ARGUED

Railway Board Will Be Asked Opinion on Interchange Track—Colquitz Telephone Situation

EXCHANGE HAS LARGE AREA

Two important local questions will be before the Railway Board of Canada on the occasion of its visit here on Saturday. The commissioners will be asked to investigate the question of interchange of freight between the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways in the city, a subject which has been before the Chamber of Commerce for some time, and has been presented to executive officers of the two railway systems.

The position of the business men of the city will be presented before the Commission by Mr. C. P. W. Schwenger, president of the Chamber of Commerce. He will be assisted in his efforts by a committee specially interested in the matter, and has been presented to executive officers of the two railway systems.

The Saanich municipal council will ask the Board to investigate the situation of subscribers to the B.C. Telephone Company in the Colquitz exchange area (about 250 in number) adjacent to Victoria with the object to place them on the same basis as Victoria subscribers, or else to abolish the four cents tariff on calls between the city and subscribers in that area.

The Colquitz, Belmont and Gordon Head telephone exchange calls are on a four-cent basis per call under a reduction of twenty per cent brought into use several months ago. The name does not give a clear idea of the exchange area, which extends westerly from Quadra Street to the boundary in Strawberry Vale, and north to Prospect Lake, including Elk Lake, and back to the city.

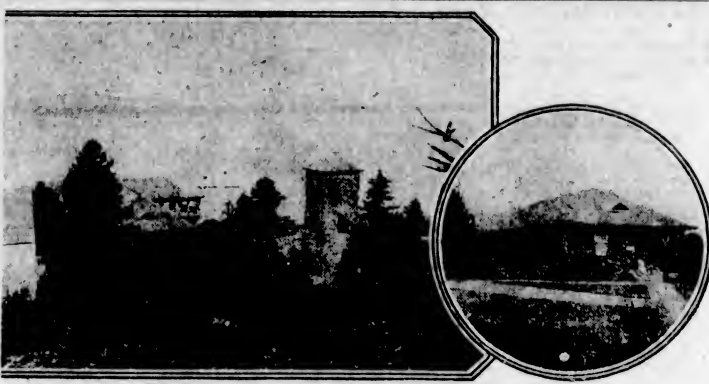

While geographically in the Colquitz exchange area, the Municipal Hall itself is free from the subject of inquiry having telephonic communication direct to the city, as well as the municipal telephones in the Colquitz area.

BAPTIST CONVENTION CONCLUDES SESSIONS

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—After a stormy week, which brought a definite split in their ranks over the question of the alleged Modernist teaching of McMaster University, the convention of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist Union came to a close yesterday.

The concluding session was featured by the adoption of a resolution deprecating the sale of liquor permits as lending respectability to a "hurling traffic."

Another resolution adopted expressed "firm conviction that the League of Nations is the only effective safeguard of the world's peace," and urges all Liberals to make up their minds to support the first principle of the political creed and the inspiration of their labors for good government at home, and abroad.

FREE STATE HEAD FEELS CONFIDENT

Trade Returns Show Marked Improvement, He States—Steady Progress Reported

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—The future of the Irish Free State is viewed with calm confidence by President William T. Cosgrave, for five years the chief executive of the Free State and just re-elected its head for another five years.

President Cosgrave bears the tremendous strain of office without a sign of weakness.

President Cosgrave declared that the new Government will devote itself to practical measures for the development of the country's resources. "One of the first duties of the new Dail will be to finish the Government measures for extending agricultural credits to farmers," he continued. "The River Shannon hydro-electric scheme is employing many workers and when completed will supply cheap electricity for the whole country."

"There is a marked improvement in trade returns and national credit is good. The Government has spent millions in road construction and Irish roads now compare favorably with those of Great Britain."

"The Government has subsidized the beet sugar industry, bringing thousands of acres under cultivation. The Free State is one of few countries which can point to a decrease in unemployment."

The House of Rogues

By CHRISTOPHER B. BOOTH

CHAPTER XX
Still benumbed by the shock of the tragedy, five persons remained in the spacious, dark-walled living-room of the strange old house—Mrs. Kingslake, Mrs. Eastman, Polly, Paul Grimshaw and Dolliver. The servants had slipped back to their quarters to talk wonderingly in strained whispers.

There had been a long silence. It was broken by Vera Kingslake, who looked toward Paul.

"Isn't anything going to be done—about the body?" she asked haltingly. "It's inhuman, Paul, to let him stay up there—unattended. I should think that you—"

Paul, his legs stretched straight in front of him, one hand rammed deep into his pocket while the other teetered absently at the points of his miniature moustache, gave a start.

"I don't know what we can do," he answered slowly. "I think there is a law of some kind about leaving things as they are until the coroner arrives. I suppose we'd better wait."

"What was that the sheriff said—about your fingerprints being on Jagger's gun?"

"That was true," said Dolliver. "Like a fool, when I knelt over Mr. Strawn to find if any life remained, I picked up the gun from the floor. I don't know what made me do such a thing."

Paul gave him a quick, curious glance. "Perhaps it's a lucky thing for you," he murmured. "That Jagger has a criminal record. I wonder if they'll send the poor beggar to the chair?"

Mrs. Eastman shivered. "What's the use of pretending, a lie?" he answered. "Everyone knows that Uncle John and I didn't pull together very well, that he only endured me because I was the only kid he had. I'm sorry he's dead; of course I'm sorry, but—"

His voice trailed off into a thoughtful nothing. "I wonder if Jagger did kill him?"

"I wonder if Jagger did kill him?" said Vera Kingslake, and her eyes were fixed upon the face of Polly Eastman. It seemed to Polly that there was a subtle meaning behind this question, and, despite the fact that she had tried to steel her nerves to any surprise, she trembled and she looked away hastily.

"Yes, I wonder if he did?" went on Vera, repeating the question. "Somehow—somehow—I doubt it. I have the feeling that somebody is—hiding something."

Bob Dolliver's hands clenched and his gaze crossed with Polly's. "It was Jagger's gun," he said slowly, "out I don't see how he could have gotten out of sight so quickly. There were just three ways for him to go—down the stairs, up the stairs to the third floor, or into the book-room—and we all saw him coming down from the third floor. I don't understand it."

"He would have had to pass your door to get to the third floor stairs," said Vera Kingslake, who was much calmer now and who was beginning to use her mind in a logical way.

"Yes," nodded Dolliver. "The would have had to pass my door. The only unoccupied room on the second floor was the book-room, and I know that was empty."

"That testimony probably won't save Jagger," said Vera. "His record is against him. If someone else killed Mr. Strawn and let Jagger be electrocuted—that will be another murder."

Polly covered her face suddenly with her hands and a moan escaped her lips. Mrs. Kingslake darted her another quick glance in which there was a hard gleam.

"It's either Jagger or the three-fingered man," said Paul. "Don't forget about the door that slammed!"

"Perhaps," said Vera briefly. "Polly got unsteadily to her feet. "I—I think I'll get—some fresh air," she said faintly.

Mrs. Westbury Eastman was no blockhead, and she realized that a horribly sinking sensation that something was wrong—something very much wrong.

"Very well, child," I'll go with you," she must have a talk with her daughter, find out what it all meant, the explanation of these strange glances between Polly and Dolliver and the insinuating words of Vera Kingslake, perhaps not so much the words as the tone in which they had been uttered. It was almost as if the woman were hinting that Polly had something to do with the murder!

Polly stumbled out of the house and to the lawn with Mrs. Eastman following. As they neared the stone bench beside the fountain, the girl shuddered. It was here that Strawn had proposed to her and where she had reached her final decision to do "the sensible thing." If her answer had been different—Polly wondered.

The distracted girl did not know what to believe; her brain was all confusion. She only knew that from the balcony she had overheard a violent quarrel between Bob and Strawn; that there had been threatening words, the sound of a struggle—and then silence. Five minutes, perhaps a little less, and there had been the shot as she was mounting the stairs. Then she had "rept forward with fear-retarded feet to find Bob beside Strawn's body, the pistol in his hand."

Bob had told her that he was innocent of the crime, but—wasn't it the natural thing to deny murder? Wouldn't he have hidden it, even from her?

She was very positive that Jagger, the butler, would not have had the time to escape; his retreat was cut off on two sides, she at the stairs and Bob at the other end of the hall. There was, she told herself, just one chance of Bob's innocence—that the shot had been fired by the three-fingered man; that he had escaped through the book-room.

"Polly!" Mrs. Eastman's exclamation was both commanding and questioning. "Yes, mother."

"What does it all mean?" "What—what does what mean?" The girl's voice sank to a tragic whisper, fearing this cross-examination.

"Everything!" The mother's voice rose to a wail. "I know that there's something terrible. I can't understand and—I must know. You've got no right to keep me in suspense, make me suffer."

Polly's last nerve gave way and she slipped down to the grass, lying a limp heap as she began to sob wildly and uncontrollably.

"I can't tell you, mother; I can't tell anyone. No matter what happens, I can't tell. You—don't understand; I couldn't make you understand. It was all wrong; you were wrong. I was wrong!"

Mrs. Eastman knelt beside her and patted her shoulder in an effort to soothe her, and at the same time a horrible terror clutched at her heart.

"You must tell me, child, I am your mother. I have a right to know."

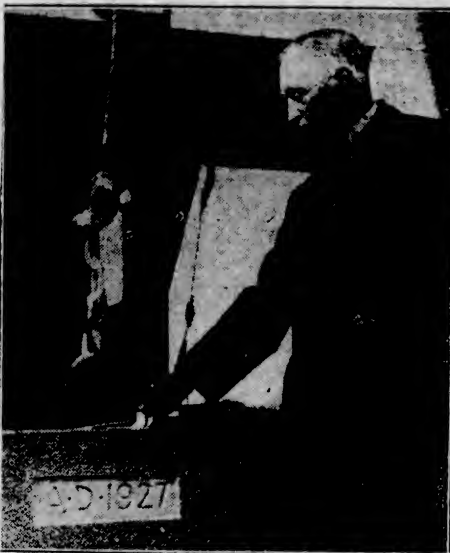

"Can't tell you," whispered Polly. "Bob—"

At the mention of Dolliver's name Mrs. Eastman's lips tightened, and her dislike of the man flamed into a frenzy of hatred. So that was it! Bob Dolliver had killed Strawn, had robbed her of a rich son-in-law. Polly was protecting him.

"You mean, Polly, that Bob Dolliver—"

"No!" the girl sobbed. "I know he didn't do it; I know he didn't do it!" It was that insistence

Dedicated to Research

ANOTHER step was taken towards the solution of problems of the pulp and paper industry in Canada when the corner stone of the Pulp and Paper Research Institute was laid by Hon. James A. Robb, Canadian Minister of Finance, on the McGill University grounds, Montreal. This picture was taken just as Mr. Robb was laying the corner stone.

which people often use to make themselves believe that which they doubt. "Even if he did, John Strawn was a beast—a beast! I—I had a right to know that—what a fiend the man was. He—he broke a caddy's wrist because the caddy laughed at him; he killed a horse with a hay-fork because the horse threw him. Oh, merciful heaven, to think I almost married a beast like that!"

"You believed that? You believed those things from the mouth of a jealous man?" Mrs. Eastman's voice choked with indignation. "No, mother, no. Bob—Bob was too fine, too noble to come to me with tales. He—I heard him—"

She stopped suddenly, realizing that she was on the verge of saying too much. But she had already said too much; her mother had shrewdness enough to fill in some of the gaps.

"You mean, Polly, that Dolliver and Mr. Strawn—quarrelled?" "No!" lied Polly with rather too much vehemence. Mrs. Eastman thought she saw the girl's face dream the depths of Dolliver's love for Polly until the conspicuous way in which the news of Polly's engagement to Strawn had unnerved the young man at the breakfast table that morning, she had thought it merely a passive interest, which, unless it flamed into life, would remain dormant.

She was reasoning things out. Realization that he was about to lose Polly had inflamed Dolliver to a mad jealousy; he had gotten hold of the butler's gun and had killed Strawn with this weapon. Polly had overheard enough to know the truth; perhaps she had even witnessed the murder. A fresh tinkle of horror passed through her body.

"Do you realize, Polly dear," she said gently, knowing that gentleness was the only tone to use in her daughter's present state, "that a grave wrong is being done. If Bob Dolliver were as noble and fine as you think him to be he would not keep silent and let another man bear suspicion for a crime that he has himself committed."

"But I tell you Bob didn't do it. I tell you he didn't!" cried Polly, her hands clenched.

"If that is true," Mrs. Eastman said, "he has nothing to fear in telling the truth. No brave man, my dear, would let safety for himself at the jeopardy of another's liberty—his very life. Something must be done; unless Bob Dolliver tells the truth, then you—"

"Mother! You don't know what you're asking. I—I can't be a traitor—to the man I love."

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—The Government has decided to submit to the Supreme Court the question whether women are eligible to sit in the Senate.

For some time past, women's organizations have been urging upon the Government that any necessary legislation should be passed to enable women to sit in the Senate the same as they can now sit in the House of Commons. But there has always been some doubt whether the British North America Act gives the necessary authority. The act authorizes the Government to appoint "qualified persons," but is a woman a person within the meaning of the act? Or is the term "person" limited to a man?

The Government has also decided to apply to the Privy Council for leave to appeal on the question of Alberta's natural resources. Transfer of Alberta's resources was before the Supreme Court on a reference heard some time ago, and the court gave judgment. That judgment, the Dominion Government seeks now to have taken to the Privy Council for a final ruling on the subject.

AUCTION BRIDGE EXPERT TO VISIT

Mr. R. F. Foster Will Give Demonstrated Lecture at Hudson's Bay Company Store

Auction bridge enthusiasts will welcome the news that Mr. R. F. Foster, the eminent authority on auction bridge, is again to visit Victoria to give an afternoon lecture in the Victorian Restaurant of the Hudson's Bay Company Store on Monday, October 31.

It was Mr. Foster who first introduced bridge into America through his writings and by means of lectures brought auction bridge to the present day popularity.

As chairman of the card committee of the famous Knickerbocker's Whist Club, as sponsor for the double valuation system and invention of the eleventh rule as well as innumerable "plays" and methods of winning and saving games, Mr. Foster's name is renowned throughout the card playing world.

Nothing Mr. Foster has given to card players has been successfully disputed. He has instructed British peers in the game, and has crossed the Atlantic Ocean nearly a hundred times for lectures and exhibitions.

In his forthcoming visit to the Hudson's Bay Company Store, Mr. Foster will conduct what will virtually be a large class in auction bridge wherein each participant will play his or her hand according to Mr. Foster's directions, with reasons and explanations for each play.

Tickets for Mr. Foster's lecture may now be obtained at the Information Bureau on the Mezzanine floor of Hudson's Bay Company store. It is understood that the number of tickets issued will be limited and early application is advisable.

ONTARIO PREMIER PLEASED IN WEST

After Visiting Saskatchewan and Alberta Mr. Ferguson Reports on General Conditions

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19.—"Never have I seen a greater spirit of optimism, East or West," said Hon. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, on his return to Winnipeg from a visit to Alberta and Saskatchewan over Canadian Pacific lines this morning.

"I was shown by all classes of people in the Western provinces. Three years ago they were uncertain; today that is all gone, and a feeling of permanence and contentment is abroad in the land."

While in the vicinity of Calgary and Edmonton, Mr. Ferguson visited the farming districts in company with Mr. George Hoadley. Threshing was going on merrily, as much as seven million bushels a day, the grading being exceptionally good, despite the heavy rains.

"The great thing in the West today is this spirit of confidence," emphasized Mr. Ferguson, "and it is not entirely a matter of Western importance, either. We in the East will profit by the money coming into the country at large is the spirit of optimism. It affects the whole nation, steadies financial affairs, and gives heart to everyone."

With Premier Ferguson are his wife and Mrs. W. H. Price, wife of the Attorney-General of Ontario. They are spending the day at the Royal Alexandra Hotel, and leave tonight on the Toronto Express for the East.

Willie had been naughty and was being sent to bed by his mother without his supper. He was naturally aggrieved at the feminine sex and tumbled between the sheets without a word.

"Willie," she said, "say your prayers."

"I won't."

"Don't you want to go to heaven?"

"Nah. I'm going with papa."

"No More Exhaustion," Says Mrs. Richards:

"I am so happy, for now washday never bothers me. No more exhaustion. No more back-aches from washboard rubbing. No more red, swollen hands. Rinso makes my week's wash whiter than ever. All I do is soak my clothes in Rinso suds overnight. In the morning all the dirt is soaked out so that all I need to do is just rinse them. Even the most soiled spots need only a few rinses to make them nice and white."

MRS. F. RICHARDS,
574 Nanaimo St.,
Vancouver, B.C.

You can't rub clothes as white as this soap soaks them

The new way is easy. No weary toil over the washboard—no more hard rubbing.

Just soak—rinse—and your week's wash is whiter than you've ever seen it! And out on the line hours earlier.

Do you wonder that millions of women now let Rinso do the hardest part of washing for them?

Use Rinso next wash. You need no other soap or chips—or water softener. Rinso softens the hardest water.

Rinso alone, does the work

Nothing else is needed on washday but Rinso. No bar soaps, no chips or powders; for Rinso is rich, gentle soap—granulated.

It contains no acids, harsh chemicals or bleaches. Is easy on the hands and safe for the clothes.

Even if the water is hard, Rinso makes thick lasting suds.

Soak the wash in these creamy suds . . . and the dirt and stains quickly loosen and float off in the water.

Clothes last longer, for they aren't rubbed threadbare against the washboard. Try Rinso next washday and say goodbye to all hard rubbing.

Your grocer will supply you. He has many customers for Rinso.

Splendid for Washing Machines

Rinso works wonders in washing machines. The clothes are washed quicker and whiter. An hour or so and a whole week's washing is finished.

Social Evening.
Ladies of Court Maple Leaf, A.O.F., and their friends are invited to a social evening at the home of Mrs. Penney, 1784 Denman Street, tonight.

SOCIAL SERVICE OBJECTS DEFINED

A leaflet has recently been issued by the Social Service League of Victoria defining the aims and objects of the society, and also tabulating the financial requirements. The objects are to give and restore, as far as possible, independence and a normal life to individuals and families deprived of such blessings; and to that end provide wise and sympathetic supervision; to assist in removing and alleviating all kinds of family difficulties; and to give relief employment, medical care, and education; also to take part in the community's programme for social betterment, seeking in conjunction with other agencies to remove those abuses which undermine the well-being of family life; and to serve as a co-operating centre for all agencies interested in the various phases of family and community work.

During the year 1926-27, the league, through contact, helped 311 families, or 1,159 individuals, 490 of whom were under sixteen years of age. The summer holiday camp during July and August provided vacations for seventy-seven mothers, children and 'teen-age girls. The mental hygiene clinic, held once every month, has been particularly useful in work among 'problem children.'

The honorary president of the society is Rt. Rev. Bishop Schofield; honorary vice-presidents, Miss Cree, Mrs. James Dunsinuir, the Hon. W. C. Nichol and Mr. J. A. Sayward. The president is Mr. R. J. Anderson; vice-presidents, Rev. H. T. Archibald, Mrs. C. D. Schofield, secretary, Mrs. P. A. Osborne; treasurer, Mr. G. R. Chisholm.

The office staff comprises Miss Olive Snyder, the general secretary; Miss Martha McFadden, social case worker; and Jean C. McIlwraith, office assistant.

VIMY.
There was a good attendance at the monthly meeting of Vimy Women's Institute on Tuesday afternoon, in Vimy Hall. The president, Mrs. T. C. Robson, presided. A donation of $3 was made to the prize list at the Potato Show, to be held in December. It is expected that several members will send exhibits. An acknowledgment was received from Dr. C. Wace of a donation of $20 towards the bathing pool at the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium. The members of the Institute are planning to visit the sanatorium at an early date. Mrs. E. G. Moore, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Weismiller, Mrs. E. H. Petersen and Mrs. H. Clark will prepare supper for the annual community Halloween party to be held at the hall on the evening of October 29. Mrs. C. Gwill and Mrs. R. Evans, decorating, and Mrs. J. B. Creighton, prizes for the children, were the other committees named for this event. A picture will be given to Sahilam School. This is an annual gift. The pioneer women of the district had been invited to this meeting. Letters of regret were received from some who were unable to attend. The inclement weather prevented others. Mrs. T. Castley, a native daughter, related some interesting and amusing reminiscences of her childhood days, referring especially to the Cowichan Fall Fairs, which were held at Maple Bay in the earliest years of settlement. The first white child born in the Colony of British Columbia, Thomas Fraser York, in 1858, was read by Mrs. J. Haslam. Miss I. M. Jeffares, supervising nurse of the Cowichan Health Centre, was also a guest of the afternoon. The members took this opportunity of expressing their best wishes to Miss Jeffares, whose marriage to Mr. J. Gibbs takes place in November, presenting her with a dozen linen tea towels. Though the gift of a complete surprise, the recipient made a very happy reply. Miss Jeffares has always shown great interest in Vimy W.I., and been always ready to assist its work. Mrs. E. H. Petersen and Mrs. J. B. Creighton were tea hostesses.

Often the silhouette, the hemline and the waistline have been discussed. There still remains the topic of trimming. Plaids and tucks are used extensively and bows are not new, but here and there bows are combined in a novel manner with shirring. The frock is of beige satin crepe and is quite simple in design. The sleeves are long and tight. But the outstanding feature is the novel shirred arrangement in the front, from which the fullness of the skirt is derived.

"IS ZAT SO?" AT COLUMBIA

Real Thrillers Promised Movie Fans Attending First Showing Here of Big Film

It is not often that an entire motion picture studio "lets all smoked up" over a little matter of fastidius, but the fact remains that George O'Brien played to a packed house when he fought Jack Herrick, Jimmy Dineen and other legitimate representatives of the Cauliflower Alley in the battle sequences of the James Gleason-Richard Dix comedy "Is Zat So?"

Alfred Green directed the scenes with a zest acquired in long ring patronage. Bystanders, and these packed the big stages at the West Coast Studio, are a unit in declaring there were no love taps. George O'Brien played to a packed house when he fought Jack Herrick, Jimmy Dineen and other legitimate representatives of the Cauliflower Alley in the battle sequences of the James Gleason-Richard Dix comedy "Is Zat So?"

Local audiences are promised some real thrills at the Columbia Theatre today.

CAPITOL. Clarence Badger has another hit marked down to his credit. The man responsible for such knockout pictures as "It's a Kiss in a Taxi," "The Campus Flirt," and "Senorita" has completed a Richard Dix comedy-drama for Paramount, "Man Power," now showing at the Capitol Theatre. In it Dix enacts a former Tank Corps officer who settles down in a strange town only because he finds himself mysteriously attracted to Mary Brian. He soon discovers why Mary's father's tractor is a failure and the rest can be guessed. At least almost everything else can be guessed. The attractions on the stage this week include Maxim Brody, the celebrated Russian tenor, in song selections; Blandford and Pharis, a feature dancing team, in terpsichorean specialties; and Lorraine Fraser, vest pocket soprano, in a superb programme of popular compositions. The Capitol Concert Orchestra will also be featured with a delightful musical synopsis for the picture attractions.

DOMINION. Another schoolbook tradition is exploded in THEATRE. Never look a tiger, leopard or lion in the eye in case you meet one. If you do, they instinctively feel they are to be attacked. Their strategy is always to make a quick charge. Look over their heads or to one side until you get your gun aimed. Then, if the beast is still there, you have a chance. Otherwise, turn and walk away, hoping something big and ponderous doesn't land on your neck. Ernest B. Schoedsack and Merian C. Cooper spent eighteen months in the jungles of Northern Siam, filming "Chang," Paramount's thrilling melodrama which shows at the Dominion Theatre today. They know tiger and leopard habits. Both men assert that the leopard is the most dangerous animal in the jungle. It is inviting destruction to try to hypnotize a big cat by gazing into her eyes.

PLAYHOUSE. Beauties of six different races, all distinct in their type of feminine charm, appear in First National's "Lonesome Ladies," at the Playhouse Theatre, opposite the romantic figure of Lewis Stone. "Lonesome Ladies" is a fast-paced and highly entertaining comedy-drama of domestic life, which Ray Rockett produced for First National Pictures. Peggy Lewis as a former show girl who has a real hit in her duet with Will Marshall called "Down by the Vinegar Works," in this week's stage attraction at the Playhouse, "Hits and Bits From Everywhere."

COLISEUM. "We're All Gamblers," a new Paramount picture, is showing at the Coliseum Theatre today. Life's ups and downs are a big city and the thread of a love which weaves it together and makes it worth while are vividly portrayed in this new picture. The story is a succession of gripping, it moves from start to finish come a succession of surprises. A strong comedy vein is furnished by red-headed Alexander Korda, Hungarian Gunboat Smith deserves full credit.

THEATRE. Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture, "The Stolen Bride," is showing at the Playhouse next Monday. "The Stolen Bride" is essentially a romantic story, comedy and turns of plot and situation and not a few strong dramatic moments. It chiefly provides a thrill of romance, however, both in the setting, which is in Central Europe, and in the type of story which is indicated by the title. It brings one of the foremost directors of Europe to the American screen in Alexander Korda, Hungarian writer and producer who was associated with the U.F.A. Company in Berlin for some time.

Kiwanis Minstrels. Will appear at Royal Theatre Next Month

It is now some little time since any mention was made of the coming attraction under the auspices of the local Kiwanis Club.

The producer, Carl Stocker, says that he will have something entirely new to present to the public this year, and reports that he has got together a very strong cast.

Victoria is justly famed for the high quality of its musical talent and a number of the outstanding local artists have consented to take part in the fourth big Kiwanis show.

Members of S.P.C.A. Preparing to Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be held during the third week in November, the board meeting with considerable business necessary to the work of the organization preparatory to the annual meeting.

Inspector Allen gave a good report of work done, including the following inspections: Horses, 6; cattle, 2; dogs, 6; poultry, 8; cats, 7; goats, 2; miscellaneous, 1; Wood yards, stables, storage houses, markets and sales have also been visited.

Other matters attended to by the board included further reports on the question of dogs riding on motors; the killing of sea lions, improved condition of animals confined near Banff reported by Dr. A. S. McNeil, of Liverpool, Eng.

Sparkling Comedy Is to Be Shown at Crystal Garden

RICHARD BLOMFIELD

A pseudo widow with three suitors and an unfortunate sister who somehow fails to attract men are the central characters in a play of rare humor and witty dialogue. It is titled "Why Does a Widow?" and is to be presented as the weekly concert by the Co-Optimist Comedy Company at the Crystal Garden tomorrow night. The three men in the case are of varied and interesting personality. Number one may be described as weak of heart, but sound of income. Number two is a sound of susceptibility, but not overstrong of brain. Number three inclines to be strong in ideas, but not overwise in scruples. These roles will be portrayed by Messrs. Legge-Willis, L. L. Phillips and Richard Blomfield. The ladies in the case will be enacted by Mrs. P. E. Corby, Miss Clare Vincent and Mrs. Legge-Willis.

Because of the increased attendance at these weekly plays it has been decided to place a limited number of reserved seats on sale. These can be obtained at the Crystal Garden box office today.

The Crystal Garden Concert Orchestra will also contribute several selections during the course of the evening and dancing will be continued after the performance as usual.

"The Stolen Bride" Comes to Playhouse On Monday Next

"The Stolen Bride," a First National picture starring Billie Dove, is coming to the Playhouse next Monday. "The Stolen Bride" is essentially a romantic story, comedy and turns of plot and situation and not a few strong dramatic moments. It chiefly provides a thrill of romance, however, both in the setting, which is in Central Europe, and in the type of story which is indicated by the title. DEMURRAGE WAIVED
VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Withdrawal until August 31 next, of the tariff providing for demurrage charges on grain cars consigned to Vancouver public elevators was announced at this morning's session of the Board of Railway Commissioners by Mr. F. W. Thompson, chairman of the Canadian Freight Association.

The tariff is to be replaced by one which exempts public terminal elevators on the Pacific Coast from demurrage charges on cars. It was announced by Mr. Thompson, who added that the withdrawal of demurrage would terminate at the end of the present crop year, in August next year.

He declared, however, that before any move was made to alter the tariff, grain and elevator interests would be consulted. The tariff which has been withdrawn was recently suspended pending the hearing of the board.

Garrison	2	1	0	11	5
Tillicums	2	1	0	9	5

Saanich United	0	3	0	2	8

Yesterday's results follow:
Hudson's Bay 3, Saanich United 1; Hudson's Bay 3, Garrison 2; Tillicums 4, Navy 1.

NEXT WEEK'S GAMES

Hudson's Bay vs. Rennie & Taylor, at Royal Athletic Park.
Saanich United vs. Navy, at Beacon Hill, lower ground.
Tillicums vs. Garrison, at Beacon Hill, upper ground.

Hudson's Bay soccer machine, captained by Percy Shrimpton, exploded a bomb in Wednesday Football League circles yesterday when they defeated the much-favored Garrison squad, 3-2. As a result of this upset, Rennie & Taylor took sole occupancy of the premier berth in the race for the Major Pender Cup. The departmentals, due to their great victory over the Tommies, are joint holders of second place with the Tillicums and the Garrison. Saanich United and the Navy are in the cellar, having yet to taste the fruits of victory.

EFFORTS USELESS

Every effort by the second half of their game with the Hudson's Bay proved unsuccessful and the Garrison had to admit their first defeat of the season by a 3-2 score at Work Point. The Bays, who were leading a 2-1 verdict at half-time, were outplayed in the second half of the match, but at that time the Tommies failed to pull off a win.

The winners, starting with ten men, took up the offensive from the kick-off, and Lindgren was called upon to make a few easy saves. With the turn of play towards the Bays' end of the field, Middleton, centre forward of the Garrison, centred Shrimpton with a hot drive, but the latter cleared nicely. Play at this stage of the match was very even, with the teams setting a fast pace on the slippery grass-surfaced field.

The first counter of the match was registered by the Hudson's Bay. Middleton breastst the ball in the corner of the goal, after Craig had scraped the bar with a high drive from the left wing. Shrimpton saved a couple of his shots shortly after and from a goal kick sent his team on the attack.

Bob Addie, outside right of the Bays, carried the ball down the wing and centred to King, who beat Lindgren with a hard drive at close range. The winners had the edge at this stage and before long they took the lead when Woodley ripped the ball out to Addie, the latter player coming in fast with a shot which left the Garrison goalkeepers helpless. The ball hitting under the crossbar and rebounding to the ground.

Towards the latter stages of the first half the Garrison forced the issue, but failed to score. "Red" Hawkes, playing his first game of the season, shook the goal with a stinging shot, which hit the crossbar just before the whistle.

BAYS' DEFENCE GOOD

With the resumption of play, the Tommies continued on the offensive, but good defensive work by the Bays, coupled with poor shooting on the part of the Garrison forwards, prevented them from scoring. The Bays increased their lead ten minutes from the commencement when Blair breastst Addie's high shot into the net.

Billy Allan brought the Tommies total to two goals when he sent the ball in the corner of the net on a pass from Newton.

Breakaways by the Bay forwards looked dangerous, but frequent off-sides and poor shooting prevented any addition to the score. The Tommies dominated the play in the latter stages of the match and did everything but score. Time and time again the Garrison forwards worked to their way through to a good shooting position and either shot wide or high.

The winners showed great improvement, while the Garrison seemed to lack shooting ability. Fred Oliver refereed and the teams were:

Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton; Hagen and Gardiner; Oakman, Woodley and Kerchiner; Addie, Fish, King, Blair and Collier.
Garrison—Lindgren; Farrar and Allan; Cahill, Spiers and Kemp; Newton, Richard, Middleton, Hawkes and Craig.

TILLICUMS BEAT NAVY

The youthful Tillicum eleven proved much too good for the Navy at Royal Athletic Park and won 4-1 in a dull exhibition. The clubmen had the tars on the run in both halves, and after gaining a three-goal lead in the first half, were content to just hold their own.

The first Tillicum goal came from a penalty shot, after about ten minutes of play. Wright scoring with a fast drive to the corner of the net. A few minutes later Bissell put the clubmen two in the lead when he beat the Navy defence and scored with a fine shot.

Immediately after the face-off, Bissell added another goal, taking the ball through himself. It was the nearest play and goal of the game. Barker, the Navy goalie, in trying to save Bissell's shot, was caught back about a minute before half-time. In the latter stages of the opening half, the game broke away from the Navy's end, but the latter's defence held the mark.

Tillicums went out on the offensive from the start of the second half. The Navy goalie picked off a beautiful shot from Bissell and another from Wright. Pete Salla ran the ball into the goal about fifteen minutes after when Marr placed a beautiful shot which Salla-vay flatted out.

The third goal score resulted from a penalty shot, Roberts scoring with well-placed drive. Just before the half-whistle sounded, Rigby brought the clubmen's total to four when he drove home a cross from the right wing.

Bissell, Brynjolfsson and Wright carried good scores for the winners, while Dyson, Marr and Cozier were the tars for the losers. "Scotty" McKay refereed and the teams were:

Tillicums—Salla-vay, Burns, Steve Brynjolfsson, Davis, Clark, Sewell, Gann, Hamar, Bissell, Wright and Rigby.
Navy—Barker, Temple, Dyson, Prezan, Roberts, Gleave, Patterson, Lovett, Marr, Hall and Cozier.

BAKERS WIN EASILY

Rennie & Taylor jumped into first place in the midweek circuit when they annexed a 7-1 victory over the Saanich United at Beacon Hill. Saanich held their more experienced opponents to a 2-1 score at the conclusion of the first half, but in the second part of the game the winners ran in five additional counters and held Saanich scoreless.

Kicking up hill in the initial stanza with the wind in their favor, Saanich pressed in the opening stages, but their finishing touches were weak. Ten minutes of play found the bakers two goals up, with Davis and Purdy being responsible. Shortly after the Bays scored, but the goal was called offside. "Red" Hawkes gave Saanich their only goal when he scored during a scrimmage in front of the goal. With the arrival of the rest period the score remained unchanged.

The second half of the game saw experience being the deciding factor and five additional goals were credited to the bakers. Borge added a pair, while Davis, Speak and Taylor shared the honors in the other three.

Hewson handled the whistle, and the teams were:

Rennie & Taylor—Lomas, Tupman, Gilbert, Stewart, Purdy, Smith, Taylor, Borge, Speak, Hay and Davis.
Saanich United—Rhodes, Ash, Lynn, Love, Barry, Ross, Simpson, Hogarth, Stonier, Hawkes and Brown.

VANCOUVER CITY HERE SATURDAY

Victoria Canadian Rugger to Battle Mainlanders in Big Four League Match

Victoria U.C.T. Canadian rugger are holding nightly workouts at the Horse Show Building, in preparation for the coming battle with Vancouver City here on Saturday in the Big Four League. The champions will use a number of new plays against the Mainlanders, and are confident that they will be able to come through with a win.

Coach Ernie Cook stated last night that the New Westminster game played last Saturday at the Royal City was played under the worst possible conditions. The ground, he declared, was a sea of mud and the heavy going and slippery ball made accurate passing and kicking exceedingly difficult.

According to reports, Victoria had a great edge on the play and should have won by a wide margin. Three times the City was injured about right on the line, but in each case fumbles occurred and the chances of gaining victory slipped.

Gordon Fraser in the game against Vancouver, but Jack Horne will be back on the middle wing position. Fraser was injured about three weeks ago and will not be around for a week or so. Horne will add a great deal of strength to the Victoria attack.

A WORKOUT

A workout will be held at the Horse Show Building this evening at 5 o'clock. All players are asked to attend.

"GALLOPING GHOST" DONS CANE WHEN INJURY HITS HIM

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Red Grange's injury in Sunday's pro football game has brought fulfillment of one of the most famous "galloping ghost's" cherished ambitions—the privilege of wearing a cane.

"For years I longed to carry a cane," said Red, who takes pride in a modest reputation as a smart dresser. "But I was too shy. Now I have carried one for a week, and I like it. It is just what I needed. It is just what I needed. It is just what I needed."

Grange thinks he will be able to play next Sunday, although he could hardly walk on the injured leg today.

Willie Hoppe Leads

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Willie Hoppe had a lead of 360 to 333 over Alfredo de Oro at the end of the sixth block of their 720-point handicap match today.

De Oro won today's fifth block, 73 to 60, in 66 innings, while Hoppe took the sixth block, 60-47, in 57 innings. De Oro had a high run of 8 to Hoppe's 6 in the fifth block and Hoppe's high run of 10 in the sixth block was the highest of the series. De Oro has a handi- cap of eighteen points in each block.

This Griddle Did Not Have Light Touch

WHAT DID YOU TOUCH HIM FOR WHEN HE SIGNALED FOR A FAIR CATCH?

AH DIDN'T TOUCH HIM BOSS—AH TACKLED HIM!

By AL DEMAREE (Former Pitcher New York Giants)

A man can learn football quicker than most any other game, but at times difficult problems arise that are not easily solved by men new to the game. At one of the big schools this Fall there was a colored boy named Jackson, who looked like a good prospect for end. The coaches worked over him, because he had speed and aggressiveness, and he was coming along beautifully.

One evening, the day before a preliminary game, they were polishing off for the contest. There was a punt, and Jackson was off down the field so fast that the punt receiver was forced to signal for a fair catch. Jackson had but one thought in mind. He had to tackle the man with the ball. Not noticing the fair catch signal, Jackson left his feet ten yards from the quarterback and made one of the finest tackles of the year.

One of the coaches rushed up to him and in a shrill, fierce voice, yelled, "What's wrong with you, Jackson? Didn't you see that signal for a fair catch? Why did you touch him?"

Somewhat bewildered, Jackson replied, "I didn't touch him, coach. I tackled him!"

Speaker Is Not Slated to Head Boston, Prexy Says

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 19.—Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves, denied here last night that any negotiations have been made with the Washington Senators to obtain the services of Tris Speaker as manager of the Braves to succeed Dave Bancroft.

Billy Kennedy Improves

Billy Kennedy, popular local carman, who was injured at Shawanigan a few days ago, is making satisfactory progress at his home and expects to be around in a few days. Kennedy was badly hurt when he slipped on a log while doing inspection work for the Forestry Department.

Scottish to Work Out

The 16th Canadian Scottish Rugby and soccer teams will hold a workout tonight at the Armories at 8 o'clock. All players are requested to attend.

Challenges Goodsell Again

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—H. A. "Bert" Barry has challenged Major Goodsell, world's champion sculler, for another match for the world's championship and has deposited $500.

The English contender, who was defeated on Labor Day, stated that if his challenge was accepted the race would probably be held on May 24. He would immediately start preparations, he said, remaining in Vancouver for the winter.

CARTER BEATS TOMMY O'LEARY

Wildcat Adds Another Scap by Knocking Out Sacramento Junior Lightweight

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—Leslie (Wildcat) Carter has another scalp hanging from his belt today—a sensational knockout over Tommy O'Leary, Sacramento junior lightweight, in the third round of a scheduled six-round fight here last night.

With the opening gun they let loose a continuous stream of gloves, and it was impossible to pick the better of the two dancing boxers until O'Leary shot a hard right chop to the "Wildcat's" jaw that toppled the Everett boy to the canvas for a count of two. From then on it was all over as far as the Californian was concerned, for Carter lived up to his reputation of coming back like a wildcat when he is floored.

Carter didn't let O'Leary touch him, but peppered him like a machine-gun until he crumpled and took the toll of nine in the second round. The Everett boy took his time the rest of the way, playing for a clean knockout. He dropped O'Leary in the third round for a short count and then, as soon as he was on his feet, for all ten.

After outpointing Frankie Lewis, of Seattle, for six rounds, Harry Wills, junior lightweight of San Diego, finished the fight with a clean knockout. Wills floored Lewis with a left to the kidneys and a right to the jaw.

Tom Moore, Los Angeles lightweight, won a four-round decision over Jimmy McDermott, of Seattle, for six rounds. Harry Wills, junior lightweight of San Diego, finished the fight with a clean knockout. Wills floored Lewis with a left to the kidneys and a right to the jaw.

Madison Dix, welterweight of Bellingham, lost to a decision over Billy Lang of Tacoma, in four rounds.

Brentwood College senior and junior Rugby fifteen came to town yesterday and met teams from the Victoria High School in the first matches of the School League. The victors were successful in both games, winning the senior by a 19-0 count and the junior, 27-0.

Stirling work on the part of the visiting forwards gave their teammates a 19-0 victory over Victoria High senior team in the Scott-Monchieff Shield match. The three-quarters failed to show the play they are capable of and their passing was erratic. Nickson, Doherty, Robertson and Matthews went over for touchdowns, the former player going over twice. Mitchell, sturdy fullback of the Collegians, converted two of the tries.

Field work in the scrum, and Mitchell at fullback were the best men for the winners, while Turgoose showed a fine turn of speed for the losers and only bad luck prevented him from scoring. The teams were:

Brentwood College—Mitchell, Nickson, Robertson, Pugh, Matthews, Doherty, Cooper, Field, Green, Symons, Purser, Dee, Cameron, Martin and Ferris.

Victoria High School—Boorman, Turgoose, Cudlip, Gaunt, Coulter, Shaw, Parrot, Pettifore, Ford, Killick, Bissell, Kinsman, Caddell, Gann and Monk.

Brentwood's second team scored a more decisive victory to the tune of 27-0. Appleton, clever three-quarter, was the outstanding player, scoring a try, a drop goal and converting four tries. Houghton, Falter, Nunn and Allen were the other players to share the scoring honors.

Brentwood College—McSwain, Houghton, Campbell, Appleton, Nunn, Salter, Ives, Gadd, Allen, Davenport, McNeill, Wiseman, Hanbury, Pittfield and Proctor.

Victoria High School—Krown, Muirhead, Prior, Cuzner, Denton, Colclough, Gaeleth, Jonh, Matthews, Moyes, Stokes, Sing, Bapty, Copeland and Shaw.

Five C's and 16th Canadian Scottish, cellar occupants, will battle at Work Point, with each team striving for their first win. This should be a keenly contested game.

JUVENILE GAMES

Six juvenile and two junior games will be played. The leading attraction is expected to be the Five C's and Royal Oak at Beacon Hill, starting at 1:30 o'clock. These teams are tied for the top berth and Saturday's game made decide which team shall hold the honor for the week.

The programme follows:

AMATEUR BODY ON WARPATH

Old-Timers-Sons of Canada Baseball Game Being Investigated by the Local Branch of Union

BASEBALL LEAGUE ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Another upheaval is threatened by the local branch of the Amateur Athletic Union among athletes of the city, according to information received from a session of the board held at the Y.M.C.A. this week. It is understood that an investigation has been in progress for some time over the alleged irregularities about a baseball game between the champion Sons of Canada and a team of old-timers at the Royal Athletic Park about a month ago, in which, it is stated, some professional element took part without the official sanction or approval of the governing body of the Simon-pures. Who is involved could not be ascertained, but it is known that a letter has been sent to the Victoria Amateur Baseball League by the heads of the local Amateur Union demanding an investigation and an early reply.

It appears that after the Sons of Canada had won the city championship and had finished with the British Columbia playoff series, that they decided to stage an exhibition with a team of old-timers. A former player, who is now a golf professional, and who put his glove away several years ago, was asked by the management of the old-timers to play in the game. Permission was asked from the amateur heads to play the golf professional, which was refused.

UNDER ASSUMED NAME
It is said that this person played under an assumed name of Smith. What his real name is is not known, and officials of the union are attempting to solve the mystery. Officials of the amateur body, it is understood, that all players must have to be cleared to the union's satisfaction before the matter is dropped.

Sometime ago a similar occurrence shook the amateur heads, and it looked for a time if the amateur element would be exterminated as far as Victoria was concerned. However, the heads of the union got together along with the culprits and after a lengthy meeting a truce was called and Simon-pure cards were issued to the miscreants.

Outside of the alleged irregularities in the Old-Timers-Sons game, union officials have been notified that the Sons of Canada had ineligible players on their team, which played in the British Columbia baseball playoffs. It is understood that several players on the team went under aliases.

DUTY ON DOORS MUCH DEBATED

Application of Manufacturers for Better Protection Comes Before Board

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Late today the application of Canadian door manufacturers for additional tariff protection was taken under advisement by the tariff advisory board.

"We protest against the attempt to have the duty increased from twenty-five per cent either by change of the rate or by fictitious valuation of such doors as may be imported from the United States," declared I. K. Oakley, representative of the Canadian door industry, before the board.

R. J. Deachman, Consumers' League of Canada, said that the tariff on doors is a "purely selfish one." A. E. Darby, for the Canadian Council of Agriculture, also opposed the request.

"We are not asking for a higher tariff," declared Oliver Phillips, Vancouver, in presenting his argument for the British Columbia door manufacturers. "As far as British Columbia manufacturers are concerned, we only desire the true story. For that reason we desire that an investigation be made of American door plants by a competent accountant so that a fixed and fair price for the selling purposes of American doors in Canada may be submitted to the board."

Miss Le Gallienne Is Winner of $5,000 Pictorial Review Prize

The winner of The Pictorial Review Achievement Award of $5,000 for 1926 is Miss Eva Le Gallienne, of the Civic Repertory Theatre of New York.

This annual award was established by The Pictorial Review in 1923 with the purpose of stimulating women to high achievement. It is bestowed upon the American woman who, in the opinion of a committee of distinguished men and women, has made the most distinctive contribution of the year to the arts, letters, science or social progress.

Miss Le Gallienne, who is one of the most talented and younger stars of the stage, received the plurality of votes because of her outstanding work in founding the Civic Repertory Theatre, and maintaining a high standard of art in the written and spoken drama, at admission prices that all can afford. By her successful example she inspired the same activity in other cities.

Miss Le Gallienne, who is twenty-eight, was in competition with the seasoned and hardened producers of the New York stage and, in many instances, she met their direct opposition, thereby finding it impossible to get a theatre on Broadway because of her low scale of admission fees. Undaunted, Miss Le Gallienne secured a theatre on West Fourteenth Street, far from the beaten track of the playgoer, and there she is giving the public the best theatre—fine drama, well staged, and well acted at the low scale of $1.50 to 50 cents a seat.

This she has accomplished at cost to herself. She has devoted her entire savings to her ideal and, in addition, has turned her back on large offers from the great producers of the New York stage.

Miss Le Gallienne not only acts in many of her productions, but directs them as well, bearing also the brunt of the financial responsibility. She is the fourth recipient of the Pictorial Review award. Mrs. Edward MacDowell, the widow of the noted musical composer, received the 1923 award for her work in establishing and maintaining the MacDowell Colony in Peterborough, New Hampshire, where artists in all fields may find, at small cost, quiet and repose in which to pursue their work.

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, who established and is carrying on the Moonlight Schools in the mountains of the South, thereby greatly reducing the percentage of illiteracy, received the award of 1924.

Miss Sara Graham-Mulhall received the 1925 award for her work among the unfortunate victims of the drug habit, and for her initiative in bringing about the passage of the Harrison Act, which forbids the importation and sale of opiates in the United States.

Cigarette Lighter Sets Warehouse Afire

PLUM COULEE, Man. Oct. 19.—A cigarette lighter that worked too well was responsible for the destruction yesterday of a warehouse at Horwath, Man., containing 6,000 gallons of gasoline and lubricating oil. A young man entered the warehouse and asked for permission to fill his lighter. When he tested it to see if it ignited, gasoline that had dripped on his hands caught fire. He threw the lighter on the oil-soaked floor and within a few minutes the structure was a roaring furnace.

Edward Rainaldi Pays Court $10 for Assaulting Nicola Eremita in Court House Corridor

Failure on Edward Rainaldi's part to control his temper following a civil suit in the County Court this week, cost him the sum of $10 yesterday when he was arraigned in the City Police Court before Magistrate George Jay on a charge of assaulting Nicola Eremita.

Rainaldi pleaded guilty to the charge, and said he was sorry that he had assaulted Eremita. Eremita had told him about him in the civil court. When the trial was over the two men proceeded into corridors at the Provincial Court House, where Rainaldi struck Eremita across the face with his hat, but did not hurt him.

City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison asked Eremita, who told the court the circumstances of the assault, if there was any mark on his face. Eremita replied that he didn't want anyone to mark his face.

After imposing a fine of $10 on Rainaldi, Magistrate Jay said to him, "You had better stay away from that man."

Australian Troops No Rabble, Says General Paton, Aboard Niagara

Australian troops at the landing at Gallipoli were not "an ill-trained, ill-led, disorganized rabble," as allegedly described in the British official history of the Gallipoli campaign, but amongst the best disciplined troops in the world, in the opinion of Major-General John Paton, C.B., C.M.G., V.D., of Sydney, N.S.W., who was the last man to leave the shell-torn peninsula in the evacuation, and who expressed his opinion last night aboard the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara, en route for the Antipodes.

"I have not seen the official report," General Paton said, "but I have read the cables in the papers without the inkstain. It is said that our troops were undisciplined, but I maintain they were among the best disciplined troops in the world."

The distinguished soldier was prepared to admit, somewhat amusedly, that Australian troops on leave in London sometimes betrayed a tendency to look the other way instead of saluting smartly when an officer approached. But he evidently did not think this bore any close connection to their conduct at Gallipoli. "In France under actual battle conditions," he said, "they were as good as the British and the French."

In addition to his exploits on land, General Paton was said by Admiral Lord Jellicoe to have been the only man in the war who captured a German gunboat.

A tall, sparely built man, with grey hair, iron grey moustache and keen blue eyes, General Paton talked freely but modestly of his military career.

"But please don't put that in the paper," he would request his interviewer after describing some fascinating incident of the war.

What he did want "put in the paper," however, was his opinion of the wonderful force of Canada and of British Columbia in particular. And as a financier, a director of half a dozen of Australia's biggest industrial concerns, General Paton's opinion is of value.

"Canada is a wonderful country—wonderful!" he said, the blue eyes glowing with enthusiasm. "Within a short time, instead of a population of nine or ten million Canada will have a population of fifty million."

Just think of the enormous natural resources of this province; of the immense development that will come. I have been greatly impressed with the fact that it is going to be a very large city with a very large population."

The "initiative and pluck" of the men who planned and built the Canadian Pacific Railway evoked a tribute of high praise from the general. Canada owed much to them, he said.

Lauding the efficient management of the big transportation system, General Paton referred to the excellence of the hotels. Sydney was a city of a million and a half population, he said, but the city's biggest hotel, the Hotel Australia, was not as big as the Hotel Vancouver, for example. Indeed, the manager of the Hotel Australia, the general happened to know, had personally obtained ideas on efficient hotel operation from the management of the Hotel Vancouver.

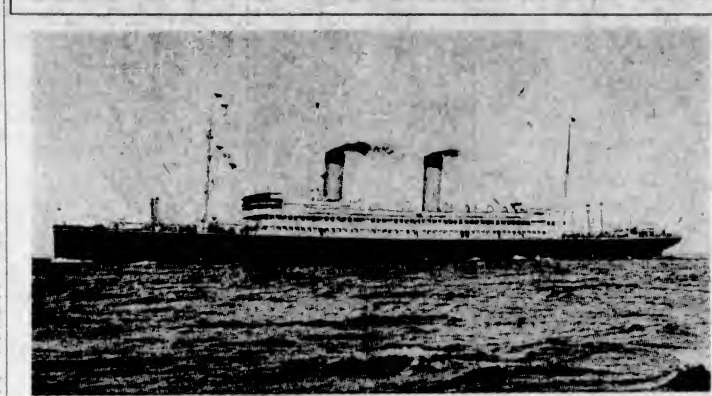

The general's capture of the German gunboat Komets, a heavily armed vessel of about a thousand tons or so, off the coast of New Guinea was a very romantic exploit. He was a colonel of Australian troops at that time—the time the islands were taken from the Germans, shortly after the outbreak of war.

The Australian naval ships had failed to find the vessel before being ordered away from the islands to convey Australian troops to Egypt. Setting out in a small craft, armed with two small cannons and some machine guns, General Paton ultimately discovered the Komets hidden away in a small inlet. He had the chance to discern wireless antennae in the thick shore foliage at the first streak of the light of dawn.

With an interpreter he embarked in the small boat and rowed over to the gunboat, on the decks of which there was no sign of life. Entering the captain's cabin he found the German officer of the point of having a spluttering and fuming and declaring that it was an unthinkable affront to his dignity to be thus taken prisoner, the German commander was locked in his cabin. Then the rest of the crew were looked below and the general signalled to his own craft for a boarding party.

The Komets was taken to Australia.

tralia and put into commission in the Commonwealth service.

General Paton's brigade, the seventh, was the first of the Australian army to go into the line in France. It was also the first of the Australians to engineer a trench raid. This was rehearsed under the direction of two Canadian officers, "Splendid chaps they were, too," said the general, reminiscently. "I saw a lot of the Canadians in France. They were a gallant lot of fellows. Much like our own Australian troops."

General Paton, who describes himself as a "citizen soldier," gave up the command of the second Australian division at Sydney last January. Since then he has been touring in Europe and America, in part to look after his diversified business interests.

Canadian-Mexican Shipping Company Gives Up Claim to Quadra and Coal Harbor Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The Canadian-Mexican Shipping Company withdrew its suit in the Federal Court here today in which efforts were made to recover from the United States Government and internal revenue collector John P. McLaughlin $105,000 in Liberty bonds, deposited as bond for the crew's release of the Quadra and Coal Harbor bonds.

The inference was that the company felt it did not have sufficient ground on which to base its case.

The bonds were deposited with the Fidelity & Deposit Company of Maryland in April, 1925, for the release of the Quadra and Coal Harbor crew.

McLaughlin seized the bonds on the ground that they should cover income taxes due on illegal liquor transactions of the Consolidated Exporters, Vancouver, B.C., said to own the liquor vessels seized and brought to San Francisco.

The Canadian-Mexican Company claimed the bonds belonged to it and that it was not the owner of the vessels.

PILCHARD RUN BEST IN YEARS

TOFINO PLANTS HANDLED CONSIDERABLY LARGER TONNAGE THAN LAST YEAR

Salmon Run Also Heavy in Clayoquot Sound—Seine Boats Reported Doing Well

TOFINO, Oct. 14.—(By Mail).—The run of pilchard this season, although it began about a month later than usual, has proven to have been one of the best in several years, the fish being so numerous and caught in such quantities that on several occasions the plants were so glutted with them as to be compelled to suspend fishing operations temporarily.

Four local plants operating in this vicinity manufactured a considerably larger tonnage than they did last year, the quantity taken being between nine and ten thousand tons, as compared with seven thousand tons handled during the preceding season. The yield was approximately three hundred and eighty thousand gallons of oil, and two thousand tons of fish meal.

The most disappointing feature of the situation at present is that, owing to a few weeks let-up in the fishing, the run for the season was supposed to be over, so the plants closed down, and the fishing fleet was demobilized, and that now the most phenomenal run of the whole season is on, with no one to catch them. The crew of a boat coming down from the north reports that they sailed through a shoal of fish that extended between Sydney Inlet and Bawdon Bay for a distance of about fourteen miles.

The run of chums and cohoes for the past week is said by fishermen to be the best experienced in Clayoquot Sound for six years, and, although the fish are especially protected, the seine boats are all doing well.

The large Fall salmon are also numerous, and as the rainfall has been heavy of late, they are ascending the rivers in great numbers.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR THE CHURCH

Large Congregations at Nanaimo Hear Address by Dr. Laird and Others

NANAIMO, Oct. 19.—The most largely attended communion service held for many months was conducted in the First United (St. Andrew's) Church recently, when Rev. Dr. Carruthers assisted the pastor in administering the Lord's Supper. Dr. Carruthers based his sermon on Exodus, thirty-fourth chapter, when Moses, God's servant, was called up to Mount Sinai to commune with his Maker, emphasizing what that communion service meant to him and the world. Fourteen new members were received into the fellowship of the church at this service.

In the evening Rev. Dr. Laird preached to an exceptionally large congregation dealing with the whole missionary programme and challenge of the church. Today, the speaker said, it is expansion or extension for the Christian church, and for those who have made a careful study of the foreign field the challenge and opportunity was never greater and brighter than today.

Yesterday afternoon a conference was held in the church auditorium, and representatives were present from almost every United charge on the north part of the island. The chief speaker was Dr. Laird, dealing largely with the problems on local charges. Most encouraging reports came in from the various fields and the outlook is hopeful indeed for missionary objectives.

At 8:30 p.m. the energetic Ladies' Aid had the long tables in the large Sunday School hall and platform laden with good things to eat and 300 plates were set awaiting the crowds when they came in from the auditorium. Nearly every plate was taken and many remarked it was an excellent supper, tastefully served.

During the banquet the orchestra delighted the audience with a number of selections which were very much enjoyed.

Mr. P. R. Inkster proved to be an excellent chairman and opened the programme by calling on Mr. Hawkins for a solo. This number, together with a duet by Mr. T. Lewis and Mr. Hawkins, were heartily enjoyed. Another very fine selection by the orchestra concluded this part of the programme. Dr. Laird was then called to the platform, and he based his remarks on the challenge of the United Church in the home mission fields of Canada.

A statement of the financial standing of the church was read by Mr. Inkster, showing that the new plant has cost nearly $1,000, and the sum of $1,750 was asked for. Three of the young people's organizations of the church donated $500 toward this amount, and a number of other substantial cheques were received, but as all the envelopes were not returned the total amount expected from this appeal cannot be reported.

Rev. Dr. Wilson, superintendent of missions, then spoke and most heartily commended the congregation and the board in providing such excellent equipment. He assured the

Many Cougars in Sahlam District

SAHTLAM, Oct. 19.—Mr. Ernest Haslam was confronted by two cougars near his home at the river bottom on Monday evening. His first shot grazed one of the animals, the second shot killing the female, which measured nearly seven feet. The previous week Mr. T. J. Meredith, Benaleck, killed a cougar in that vicinity which measured seven feet eleven inches from head to tail. This animal had been wounded a half hour earlier by Mr. Meredith and Mr. D. Campbell, Nanaimo, who came across it while hunting deer. Bear and cougar seem quite numerous this season.

people the future was never brighter for their church than now. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

BRANCH SAYS FAREWELL TO MR. CLARENCE LEE

The regular meeting of the Business Girls' evening branch of the W.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lee on Monday evening, the occasion being in the nature of a party in honor of Mr. Lee, who left yesterday to attend the Anglican Theological College in Vancouver.

It is Mr. Lee's intention, after completing his theological course, to return as a missionary to China. Mrs. F. A. P. Chadwick presided at the meeting and there was a large attendance of the members present. Mrs. Lee, one of the staff at the Chinese Mission, on Johnson Street, being herself a member.

A most interesting and very eloquent address was given by Rev. Buoy Ding Lee, superintendent of the Good Hope Mission, who spoke of the great history of China and the marvelous onward march of Christianity in spite of the great difficulties of the present situation.

The First National Church congress of China met in 1918, with only seven members, three Chinese men and four Chinese women, present. The congress now consists of 13,000 members, with seventy-nine subcommittees, and there are two native Chinese bishops.

Mrs. Chadwick expressed the thanks of the branch to Mr. and Mrs. Lee for their hospitality, and prayers were offered for blessing on the future ministry of Mr. Clarence Lee.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system in man is very complex, consisting of the brain and other nerve centres, or plexus, connected together with a hundred of nerve canals going to all parts of the body. There are over three billion nerve cells distributed over this telephone-like system, each capable of transmitting impulses to all of the other nerve cells. It is easy to understand that local irritation or inflammation will actually affect the cells in the neighborhood of the irritation. It is also true that such irritation will have a decided effect upon many of the other nerve cells by reflex action.

Many of the important functions of the body we do not ordinarily control, such as the circulation of blood, digestion of food, or the action of the glands. We are only conscious of the stimulation of the sense of touch, hearing, vision, smell and taste, but these sensations we do not really control. Our conscious control is mostly over the muscular system.

However, all of these various impulses have a very decided effect upon each other. For example, eye strain always produces causes of disorders in parts of the body seeming to have no direct connection with the organs of vision. Indigestion, constipation, general bodily weakness and mental irritability can be entirely caused by an eye strain which does not impart any unpleasant indication in the region of the eyes.

Disease of the nerve cells is very rare. What is called "nervousness" has its origin in some mental or physical irritation producing, finally, a general enervation with symptoms showing in some weak spot.

If you wish to overcome nervousness, you must understand the numerous causes producing it in your particular case. If the reason lies in eye strain, see your optometrist. If you are eating indigestibly, you must earnestly strive to correct your mistakes and substitute good eating habits for the ones you find to be bad.

If you are overworking mentally, it will be necessary to cut down on the mental work and substitute more physical exercise. If you are enervating yourself with destructive habits of thought, as fear, criticism, jealousy, worry or malice, you can immediately enjoy a miraculous change by turning off these thoughts and turning on their constructive opposites—courage, tolerance, confidence, repose and love.

The cause and cure of neurasthenia lies within yourself. Your physician can help you to discover these causes, but you alone can make the requisite changes in your habits of thought or action to bring about a wholesome condition. When you are sick it is because of bad habits. These must be corrected eventually before you can honestly hope to have that abundant health to which you should be entitled.

"How long is it going to take us to get through this case?" asked the prisoner of his counsel just before the trial.

"Well," answered the barrister, "me—about three hours; you—about four years."
